German Parties Reach Pact, See Kiesinger Rule

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany's two major parties — the Christian Democrats and the Social Democrats — agreed Saturday to form a new coalition government and replace Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, the Socialist leader, told a reporter he sees no reason to doubt at this point that Erhard's successor will be Kurt Georg Kiesinger, the Christian Democratic candidate.

Brandt shrugged off as unimportant the suggestion that as vice chancellor he would have much less influence. But he did not deny that this was the job he might take.

Brandt pointed out that his party has nearly 40 per cent of the votes in the Bundestag and that there would have to be a partnership in policy matters.

Seek Stability
Brandt said in a television interview that the Socialists had made the precedent-breaking decision in order to give West Germany a stable government. Their alternative — a deal with the small Free Democratic party — would not have produced a practical majority," he explained.

Up to now in West Germany's 17-year history the Socialists have always been in opposition. The decision still has some hurdles to take. First it must be approved by the parties' representatives in the Bundestag, who must elect a new chancellor to replace Ludwig Erhard. This is expected to take place Monday after some debate at separate meetings behind closed doors.

Between them the two groups control 447 of the 496 Bundestag votes. The Christian Democrats have 245, the Socialist 202. The only opposition would be the Free Democratic party which has the other 49.

Was A Nazi
Many Socialists are likely to oppose Kiesinger for the chancellorship because he was a member of the Nazi party from 1933 until the end of World War II. He helped run the radio propaganda section in Adolf Hitler's cabinet.

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Rockefeller IV was quoted Saturday as saying he has been seeing "a good deal" of Sharon Percy, daughter of Republican Sen.-elect Charles H. Percy of Illinois.

The Washington Post reported that in a telephone call to Rockefeller's home in Charleston, W. Va., Friday night he said he had just returned after spending a few days with my family.

Asked whether he and Miss Percy had plans for marriage, Rockefeller said, "I have seen a good deal of her but we have not made any announcement." (Turn To Page 13)

Winds End Smog Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — Millions of people on the Eastern seaboard had new cause for thanksgiving Saturday. Fresh winds blew the awful smog which had hung over them since the holiday eve.

From Baltimore to Boston, winds and rain lifted the lid of stagnant warm air that trapped the nation's most populous area in its own foul fumes.

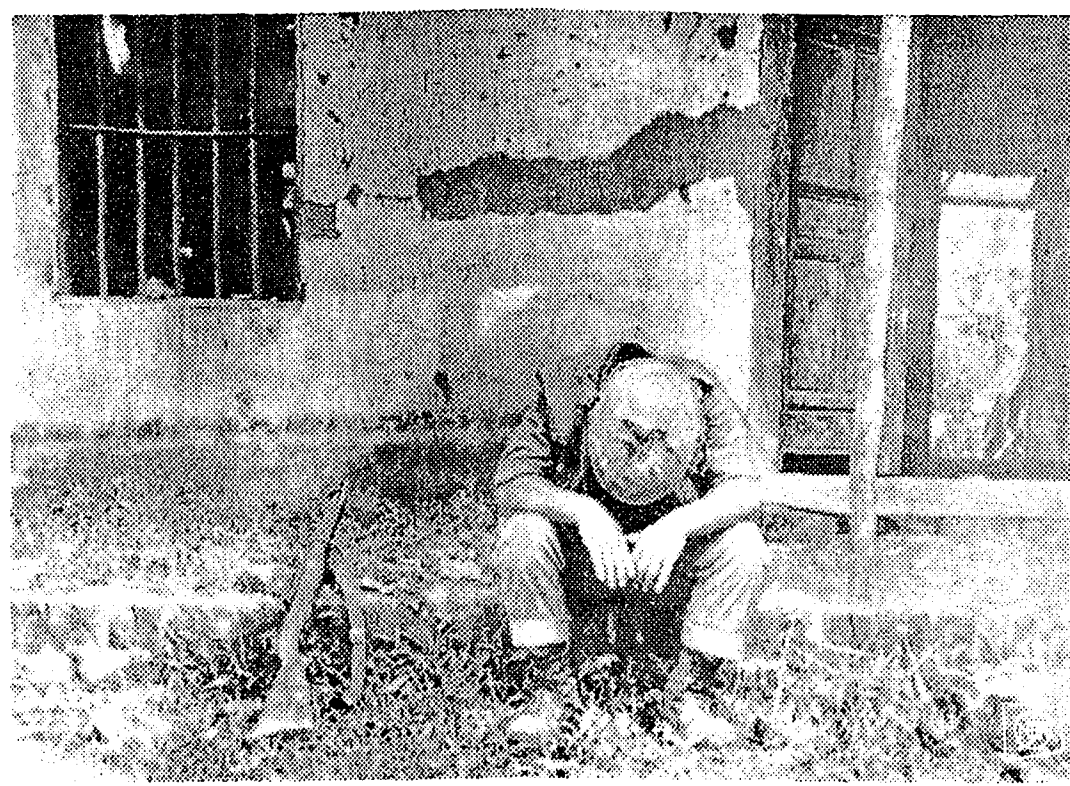

State Health Commissioner Roscoe Kandle of New Jersey said the experience should stand "as a sobering reminder that mankind must get very much busier about the enormous job of controlling his environment."

"The alert," he said, "should reveal to us all the unwelcome possibility that time could be on the side of pollution if we let it. It underscores the vital importance of working together to assume our own self-preservation."

Most of the area had been under a first-stage alert, under which people were asked to drive less, burn no rubbish, and use less coal and oil for heating. Unusually warm temperatures helped them cooperate.

As the winds came, New York City relit its municipal garbage incinerators, shut down since Thursday morning. That night the city's air pollution rose to a record level, five times the average, and well above the health danger point.

Austin Heller, the city's air pollution control commissioner, praised Consolidated Edison Co. for cooperating with the smog

Girl Quintuplets Born To Pittsburgh Couple

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A shocked young Pittsburgh couple became the parents of quintuplets Saturday, but doctors gave only one a fair chance of surviving.

Two were given a moderately poor chance of survival by doctors at Magee-Womens Hospital, while the chances of the other two were described as very poor.

The babies, ranging in weight from 1 pound, 7 ounces to 1 pound, 12 ounces, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Aranson, both 22, shortly before 3 a.m. The infants were 2 1/2 months premature.

All five were in incubators. The father is a law student at Duquesne University.

"I couldn't see, but I could hear," said the mother, Patti, of the delivery. "They were shouting, 'A, B, C, D... I was shocked!'"

Mrs. Aranson, an attractive 5 foot 2, 104-pound brunette, smiled as she talked with newsmen and posed for photographers in her hospital room.

Was A Teacher
She said she resigned her schoolteaching job in suburban Wilkesburg after becoming pregnant.

Doctors said the delivery took 10 minutes. The father, dressed in a business suit with his tie askew, was weary after only one hour's sleep during the night.

"I'm very excited," he said. "I'm not yet back down to earth."

Aranson said he was in the maternity ward waiting room while his wife was in the delivery room.

"They just walked out and told me I have five girls," he said.

"I was rather stunned," he said. "My first reaction was to thank God my wife was well and the children were all well."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Greenberger of Pittsburgh, parents of Patti, who is their only child, were happy, too.

Wanted Big Family
"I always wanted a large family," said Mrs. Greenberger, "and it looks like I'm going to get it in my grandchildren!"

Mrs. Greenberger said Patti's great-grandmother was a twin, and Mr. Greenberger recalled that one of his cousins was a twin.

Aranson said his wife had taken no fertility drugs.

The last report of a quintuplet birth was in Auckland, New Zealand, where Mrs. D. W. Lawson gave birth to four girls and a boy on July 27, 1965.

There are three other known living sets of quintuplets.

Aranson said doctors informed him it would be a multiple birth, but did not tell him exactly how many children to expect.

Dr. Thomas Martin, head of the delivery room team, said that doctors had been forewarned to expect five children, but didn't tell the parents to spare them concern.

The couple lives in a two-bedroom apartment in Pittsburgh's East Liberty section.

"I guess housing arrangements are going to have to be rearranged somewhat," said Aranson.

He said he has received no promotional offers from any companies or inquiries on exclusive rights from publishers.

In fact, he would like to avoid publicity as much as possible, he said.

"Naturally, your life isn't going to be the same," he said, "but you've got to realize the most important thing to children is a normal upbringing, and to put them in the face of press and publicity deprives them of too much. And we don't want them to handle it."

27 Americans Killed In Saigon Air Crash

Mechanical Failure Seen As The Cause

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Air Force C47 transport crashed and exploded shortly after taking off from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport Saturday night. Americans aboard were killed.

All victims were U.S. military personnel except one U.S. Defense Department civilian, authorities reported.

Weather Curbs Raids
Names were withheld pending notification of relatives.

The plane crashed one mile from the airport and its wreckage burned while mired in a rice paddy. Authorities said the crash was caused by a mechanical failure.

In North Viet Nam, American planes flew through thunderstorms and heavy clouds Saturday to bomb staging and supply areas, U.S. headquarters reported. The number of strikes was limited by the monsoon season weather.

In the South, B52 jet bombers pounded suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations in the central highlands near the Cambodian border Saturday night. No major ground fighting was reported.

Elsewhere Christmas truce talk emerged again. A Viet Cong broadcast monitored in London and Washington called for 48-hour truces over Christmas and New Years.

The Texas White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said the United States is discussing with Saigon the possibility of a cease-fire for those days. Proclaimed truces last year were followed by charges of violations from both sides.

Ground Fighting
Viet Cong harassing actions and relatively light military contacts had marked the war effort Saturday.

— The 30,000 or so American troops in War Zone C northwest of Saigon wound up Operation Attleboro, the biggest drive of the war, in which they have reported killing 1,106 of the enemy. In farewell, Viet Cong mortars lobbed 30 shells at an American command post, the tactical field headquarters of the 2nd Brigade, 1st Infantry Division. The U.S. Command said casualties were light.

— On a highway six miles north of Saigon, guerrillas fired about 15 shots at a civilian motor pool. A spokesman said there were no casualties. Government forces said they killed 18 Viet Cong elsewhere in three scattered fights.

— South Vietnamese headquarters reported combat police repulsed 40 Viet Cong attempts ing to infiltrate a southern suburb of Saigon from swampy country nearby. One of the guerrillas and two policemen were killed. Two other policemen were missing. This followed a raid Friday on a Mekong River delta village 90 miles southwest of Saigon by three

Republican Maps Party Tax Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Republican leader has already drafted a plan for sharing federal taxes with state and local governments that will be a cornerstone of GOP policy in the next Congress.

The plan calls for turning back 3 per cent of federal income tax receipts to states and localities to use as they see fit. The amount would rise gradually to 5 per cent.

Offered by Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., the plan is the first concrete proposal by the House GOP leadership since the Republican election triumphs of Nov. 8.

"GOP Alternative"
"This proposal seeks to provide for the great public needs of the 1960s and 1970s by equipping state and local governments to meet these needs," said Goodell. "It is an alternative to the philosophy of the Great Society."

Goodell, chairman of the Republican Planning and Research Committee, said tax sharing would provide needed general aid funds without reducing state and local governments to administrative subdivisions of Washington.

It is not being offered, at least originally, as a substitute for any existing programs, he said, although in time it may permit some of them to be cut back.

A tax-sharing plan was proposed in 1964 by Walter W. Heller, then chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, but after a brief flurry of interest the White House apparently put it aside. Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., has also suggested it in the House.

Questions Surround Franco's Proposals

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco has raised two intriguing questions: who will he name as his successor under the new organic law, and who will he pick as the new premier or head of government?

There was much speculation on these two points even before Franco presented to a special session of the Spanish Parliament last Tuesday his new organic laws giving Spaniards greater representation in government. Since then the speculation has increased tenfold.

Few expect the man who has ruled Spain for three decades to suddenly step down. They believe his successor as chief of state — either a king or a regent — will not be named until either death or critical illness forces the 74-year-old Franco to leave.

May Be Named Soon
The selection of a premier or head of government will certainly come much quicker, perhaps soon after the national referendum called for Dec. 14 ratifies the constitutional changes Franco proposed in the new organic law.

Francisco now rules as both chief of state and head of government.

The field of possible candidates to head a constitutional monarchy in Spain under Franco's amended laws is sharply limited by the requirements that the man must be a Catholic, a Spaniard of royal blood at least 30 years of age, and acceptable to the council of the realm, the Cabinet and the Franco-controlled Parliament.

There appear at the moment to be only three probable candidates. Of these, Don Juan de Bourbon, the exiled Spanish pretender and the third son of Spain's last monarch Alfonso XIII, appears eliminated because of Franco's opposition to his returning as king.

The pretender's son, Prince Juan Carlos de Bourbon, the apparent choice of Franco to head the restored monarchy, is

Hanoi Hannah: North Viet Answer To Tokyo Rose

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Hard-hearted Hanoi Hannah, a radio voice of Communist North Viet Nam, just doesn't have it.

Perhaps she's trying too hard. Even the more unsophisticated GIs find Hannah's heavy dose of propaganda on the dull side. And her music is not tops in pops.

Hanoi Hannah follows in the footsteps of World War II's Tokyo Rose and Axis Sally. They too tried to attract listeners and win influence among American troops.

Follows Formula
The broadcasting formula seems simple: get a girl with a sexy voice and a batch of American records likely to appeal to lonely servicemen, intersperse legitimate news items with subtle anti-U.S. propaganda and sit back while grumbling and dissension spread among the enemy.

Hannah fails on at least two counts. Her voice isn't sexy and the propaganda pitch isn't subtle.

Axis Sally and Tokyo Rose often addressed their dulcet tones to specific American units. They told individual soldiers and sailors that their

A special committee is planning the event, consisting of Trusler R. Howe, Jr., Charles A. Huggert, Howard E. Smith, Robert T. Dinsmore, Jr., Clifford W. Sibert, Edward A. Jackson, Irving E. W. Olson, Edward D. Crowcroft, Ernest N. Armstrong, Ormand G. York, Herbert M. Widdowson and Wm. Dean Jarrett.

Foods to be served are being especially imported or prepared to reflect a true old-world smorgasbord, served in a full three-course manner. Special menu cards are available from the committee and advance ticket sales, in charge of Ernest N. Armstrong, are being promptly filled.

The various charities of the Knights Templar will be featured in ads in this newspaper throughout the coming two weeks.

Duck Feathers Bring Premium Price.. At Times

By Virgil Reither
BEARDSTOWN—Duck feathers! They brought $1.25 a pound in Chicago Nov. 21, according to a local woman who picks ducks for a price and sells the feathers on a fluctuating market.

The feathers, sent to a large company which utilizes them in making pillows and other products, have sold for as much as $1.50 a pound, and as low as 75 cents.

Mrs. Myrtle Reick is one of the local women who has sold the feathers at the high price of $1.25 per pound.

However, according to local informants, the price of the feathers is never very stable. There was no information here on what effects the market.

The feathers generally are sent to buyers in sacks—about the size of a regular gunnysack. Each sack holds about 13 pounds of feathers.

Two Manchester Boys Admit Theft Of School Safe

Two Manchester teenage boys appeared in Scott county court Friday afternoon in connection with a break-in overnight Tuesday at the Manchester grade school.

One of the youths is reported to be 19 years old and he was charged with burglary. He was then placed under $1,000 bond and returned to the Scott county jail.

The other boy's age was given as 16 and a delinquency petition was filed against him. He is also being detained at the county jail until another court appearance scheduled for Monday.

Names of the two youths are being withheld because of their ages.

The two reportedly have admitted entering the school and taking a safe containing between $30-50.

Jacksonville firemen and police recovered the safe from Lake Jacksonville Thursday afternoon believed to be the same one stolen from the Manchester grade school.

The burglary was reported to Scott county authorities Wednesday morning and the two young men involved apprehended later Wednesday.

Scott authorities asked Jacksonville firemen to try the recovery after reportedly getting a confession from the two youths.

The rescue squad recovered the safe from Lake Jacksonville about 3:30 p.m. Thursday, 1/4 mile west of Sandy Beach, a short distance from shore.

Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council News

NEWS ROUND-UP FROM OUR SAVIOUR'S

Scouting is certainly in at Our Saviour's. All troops are off to a busy, constructive start with a lot of activity going on in all age levels.

The wee ones of Brownie troop 96 whose leaders are Mrs. Donna Flynn and Mrs. Gail Fernandes have been quite busy. An investiture ceremony was held on October 26 and eleven new girls became members bringing the total to 18. To learn the Brownie Promise more easily, girls made paper plate plaques using alphabet macaroni. Their first service project for the year was to make cornucopia place favors for a nursing home. These were filled with candy corn and delivered for Thanksgiving. To add a spark of magic and give each girl a special part in their troop, a wishing well was made and each girl placed a special wish in it. These wishes will be filled at various times during the year.

Brownie Troop 114 has also had a lot of activity going on; on October 24 girls took nosebag lunches and went to the Girl Scout cabin. After an exploratory hike around the camp, a bonfire was built and those delicious Samores were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Donna Kerrhard, a committee mother, hosted a Halloween party for the troop on October 31 at her home. The party was well in keeping with the holiday as girls were in costume and enjoyed a Ghost walk followed by fun and refreshments.

Twelve new girls were received into the troop at their investiture on November 7. Leaders are Mrs. Greta Dukey and Mrs. Marilyn Murphy.

Junior troop 48 is a newly formed troop this year with Miss Pat O'Connor and Mrs. Lillian Trudewine as leaders. Helping also is Gail Standley. Two girls in this group are from the Ill. Braille and Sight Saving School.

Cadet Troop
Cadette troop 13 is off to a busy start. On November 3 a rededication ceremony was held and the troop has three new members: Susan Hanley, Carol Lockman, and Deborah Miller. The girls enjoyed listening to and singing the new "Piper" song. Since bean bags were needed on the school playground, the girls decided to make them as a service project. Officers have been elected and are as follows:

Patrol Leader—Diane Flynn
Assistant Patrol leader — Carol Lockman
Finance manager — Susan Hanley

Recorder — Mary Kolberer
The group plans to go caroling as the holiday season approaches.

Mrs. Mary Kolberer is leader of this troop and has enjoyed working with some of the girls since they were Brownies.

The school is proud to have a troop consultant this year. She is Mrs. Kathleen O'Connor, a former Junior leader.

News From Troop No. 84

The business of getting acquainted and organized was Troop No. 84's primary concern. This large troop from Our Saviour's School was split. The troop now numbers sixteen; it formerly numbered thirty-nine.

All of the girls who were remaining Juniors from last year's troop attended the Patrol Leader's Training Session held at MacMurray Staudent Center and conducted by Mrs. Betty Applebee. With this new knowledge, the girls elected by secret ballot their patrol leaders, assistant patrol leaders, Scribe and Treasurer.

Patrol leaders are Carol Quinlan, Jennifer Neihaus, and Lynn Clancy. Scribe is Mary Mansfield; Treasurer is Mary Ann Duncan. The leaders are Mrs. Betty Pine, Mrs. Harriet Lochman, and Mrs. Brenda Wagner.

Hiking shoes were donned for November 8 and the girls walked from their school to the home of Mrs. Pine — a distance of some three miles. A wiener roast awaited the appetite-laden scouts.

At Conference
The Illinois Prairie Council was represented at a Senior Girl Scout Conference held at Bradley University in Peoria November 4th to 6th by Pam Clark of Beardstown and Eleanor Applebee of Senior Troop I, of Jacksonville. The theme of the conference was "This is My Country." Highlights during the two days included the keynote address by 17 year old Brian Bice, winner of the national "Voice of Democracy" contest, buzz groups, a forum, a tour of the Kickapoo Council camp and the historic old courthouse in Metamora, and a banquet held in the Student Center Ballroom. Housing was provided by the Peoria Senior Scouts with 5 to 8 girls in each home. One hundred and thirty six girls from various councils throughout Illinois and Indiana attended the conference.

CARS DAMAGED AT SHOPPING CENTER

Two vehicles were slightly damaged before five o'clock Friday evening in the parking lot of the shopping center.

City police reported that a vehicle, driven by Duane L. Stewart of 544 Brooklyn, was northbound in the lane of traffic in front of a supermarket. Stewart's auto collided with a westbound auto, in the lane north of the supermarket, driven by Cora E. Gresham of route three, Roodhouse.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week had to settle for a loss on balance but stocks were rising toward the end of the week.

The mood had changed from pessimism to optimism, and for no solid reason linked to the economic background, which remained drab.

The Dow Jones industrial average this week had a net loss of 6.08 at 803.34. In the first two trading sessions the average took a thumping loss of 14.42. In the last two sessions it regained 8.30 of this.

Volume for the week, shortened to four trading days in the Thanksgiving Day holiday, was 28,061,900 shares compared with 39,926,190 for the full five-day trading week previous.

The week ended on a very positive, bullish note, with the averages making good gains on Friday, many of the glamor far outshining the averages, and with all 15 of the most active stocks higher on the final session.

In view of the pessimistic atmosphere prevailing early in the week it was difficult to get a rational explanation of this turnaround.

Analysts said that much of the bad economic news had already been discounted by the market's big decline this year; that leading stocks—both blue chips and glamor issues—were very cheap on the basis of their fundamentals; and that big investors were buying these stocks which they believed would be the leaders when the market embarked solidly on the recovery trail.

Of 1,570 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 850 fell and 554 rose.

Bond market price trends were mixed.

Advances up to $3.75 were posted by government bonds early in the week but slight declines then set in.

In contrast to the previous week, seasoned corporate bond prices dropped by about $2.50 while the more actively traded recent issues advanced by about $2.50 for the first net gains in four weeks.

Municipal bond prices continued to decline for the third consecutive week.

INJUNCTION HALTS TEACHERS' STRIKE

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A temporary injunction was granted Saturday ordering an end to the week-old teachers' strike. A similar strike in nearby Hubbard showed no signs of ending, as court action on an injunction filed there stalled.

The Youngstown strike was halted by Judge Elwyn J. Jenkins, who ordered all picketing to end and teachers to return to their classrooms Monday morning. He set 9:30 a.m. Tuesday as the time for a hearing on the merits of the injunction.

The temporary injunction came after five mothers filed a petition in behalf of the parents of the city's public school children.

Jenkins told the women he was bypassing a local court ruling that forbids injunctions in disputes involving unions or public officials. "The legal action taken involves an illegal act on the part of the teachers," he said.

City School Supt. J. H. Wana-maker said he was making plans to open the schools Monday morning. He would be the first day of classes since Nov. 18 for the 28,100 pupils affected.

Nearly 4,000 students in nearby Hubbard were expected to remain home for the fourth school day Monday as the strike there remained deadlocked.

Bring Charges Vs. Americans Held In Russia

MGSCOW (AP)—Two former U.S. Army lieutenants held in a Leningrad jail since Oct. 1, were charged Saturday with Soviet currency violations.

They are Ray Buel Wortham Jr., of North Little Rock, Ark., and Craddock M. Gilmour Jr., of Salt Lake City, Utah, both 25. They will be tried before a Leningrad City Court at an unannounced date.

In addition, Wortham was charged with theft of an antique bear statue from a Leningrad hotel, the original reason given by Soviet authorities for their detention.

The currency violation charge carries a prison sentence of from three to eight years. The theft charge carries a maximum sentence of three years.

The U.S. spokesman said the two Americans were requesting release on bail. He said that the embassy will make a similar request at the Soviet Foreign Ministry on Monday.

Previous attempts by the embassy to get Wortham and Gilmour released have been futile.

The men, both of whom had served as first lieutenants in Germany and taken their discharge there, were touring Europe before going home. They were arrested at the Finnish border as they were about to leave the Soviet Union.

An embassy consular officer, Harlan Moen, visited them in Leningrad Saturday. He found they were still being kept in solitary confinement, but were well.

Moen reported that the two were being allowed to exchange mail with their families.

Soviet officials gave no information on the nature of the currency violations charged against the two men.

When the case was disclosed Oct. 13 by the embassy only the alleged theft of the bear statue was mentioned. The embassy had been informed of the arrests a week earlier by the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

The embassy then "expressed the hope, in view of the relatively minor nature of the case, that they will not be detained long."

Under Soviet law the investigation could have taken up to two months. It ended Saturday four days before the deadline.

TAKES OWN LIFE AFTER KILLING COP

PAINTSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Police reported Saturday that Jim Ward, about 33, took his own life with a shotgun after killing Johnson County Sheriff Walter Meek and engaging in a 60-minute gun battle with state and county troopers.

Meek, 28, the youngest county sheriff ever elected to that post in Kentucky, approached the front door of Ward's home here at about 1 p.m. to serve Ward with a lunacy warrant.

When the door opened, Meek was shot to death.

In the ensuing siege police pumped rounds of tear gas and bullets into the house, which fronts on a hill in the outskirts of the city with its back on the edge of a cliff.

A deputy sheriff, Curtis De-long, was shot but reported in fair condition after surgery.

After an hour of intermittent gunfire Ward ended the chain of events by putting his shotgun to his own head, police reported.

Circuit Court Clerk Kenneth Williams said the warrant was requested by Ward's mother, Louella Ward, who said her son had chased her from their home earlier in the day.

Say Communists Stirred Riot In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—Gov. Anwar El Khatib told the people of Jerusalem Saturday to maintain order and warned that further antigovernment demonstrations would be put down.

This Holy City and most of the towns on the Jordan River's west bank were under a state of siege after antigovernment rioting Friday in Jerusalem in which two demonstrators were killed and six persons seriously wounded.

In the capital of Amman, the Interior Ministry charged that "Communists and members of other subversive parties" were behind the troubles.

It said sums of money were seized with some persons who had been arrested. It said the demonstrations began as a protest against Israel, "but subversive elements infiltrated the people."

El Khatib also blamed the Communists, as well as criminal elements, for the bloodshed in Jerusalem.

"Police and troops were under strict orders to avoid violence," he told the Associated Press, "but a group of about 20, mostly young rowdies, charged the Damascus Gate after midnight prayers Friday."

"One of the youths grabbed a Sten gun from one of the policemen, and, unfamiliar with its workings, tripped the trigger and sprayed his fellow demonstrators and bystanders."

Demonstrators said that after this incident troops on Jerusalem's walls fired on them.

In the first demonstrations early last week, the demonstrators demanded arms to fight Israel, whose raid on three Jordanian villages Nov. 13 provoked turmoil in west Jordan. Later the demonstrators shouted against the government of King Hussein, which took no reprisal action against Israel.

The ministry said security forces, including the famous Jordanian Arab Legion, intervened to protect the lives and property of citizens. The statement said some persons had been killed and others injured, but did not give their numbers.

The streets of Jerusalem were deserted except for armed patrols. Ramallah, 10 miles to the north, was an armed camp with residents shuttered behind their shops and homes, and military checkpoints on every block.

Several of the roads were strewn with rubble from Friday's demonstrations.

Nablus, 40 miles north of Jerusalem, and Hebron, 30 miles to the south, were sealed off from the outside world. Only nearby Bethlehem and Jericho, 15 miles to the east of Jerusalem, remained calm among cities on the River Jordan's west bank.

THE SALVATION ARMY'S annual "Tree of Lights" campaign was the subject at last week's Exchange Club meeting. Capt. Harold F. Thomas, center, commanding officer of the Jacksonville Corps, presented the program for the evening and showed movies taken during distribution of last year's Christmas baskets. Tony Niccum, left, program chairman, and Con Rourke, right, president of the Exchange Club, welcomed Capt. Thomas to the weekly meeting.

Gunman Makes Off With $25,000. From N.C. Bank

SHELBY, N.C. (AP)—A well-dressed gunman, posing as a government agent, telephoned a bank official for an appointment, then calmly robbed the bank of $25,000 Saturday and escaped with the bank official as a hostage.

William E. Pearce, 33, senior vice president and cashier of the First National Bank was released unharmed in a movie theater in Charlotte, some 40 miles east of Shelby, nearly three hours later.

Pearce's secretary, Mrs. Charles Wray, told officers a man telephoned the bank about 12:30 p.m. said he was a government agent, and asked that Pearce remain at the bank about 20 minutes until he arrived.

Cleveland County Sheriff Haywood Allen said the bandit, carrying a briefcase, first went to Mabel Elliott, a teller, and asked to see Pearce "on government business" then asked for another vice president, who took him to Pearce's office.

The Charlotte office of the FBI, said the man showed a Georgia Bureau of Investigation card in Pearce's office.

The bandit then pulled a pistol and presented Pearce with a list of bills he wanted amounting to $50,000.

Pearce accompanied the bandit to the vault, where Pearce consulted Fred Morehead and was informed the bank didn't have $50,000 in cash. The bandit then ordered $25,000 in $100 and $50 bills. Morehead made up the package and gave it to the bandit.

Morehead said later the bandit and Pearce conversed in low tones while he was inside the vault.

"I thought there was something funny going on," Morehead said, "but I didn't know what. Mr. Pearce was calm through it all, and so was the bandit."

After receiving the money, the bandit told Pearce "Let's go." Pearce remarked to another employee that he would be back after lunch.

A janitor, Hubert Raper, saw Pearce get into the driver's seat of a yellow and black car and drive away with the bandit.

Allen said those who saw the car said it bore Georgia license plates, with a piece of tape placed over one of the numerals.

The FBI said a yellow and black car of the description of the getaway car was found in Charlotte.

When they arrived in Charlotte the bank official said, the bandit took him into a theater on busy Tryon Street. He made Pearce sit down and told him not to leave for 30 minutes—that he had a confederate waiting outside who would kill him.

Pearce left the theater within a few minutes and walked to the FBI's Charlotte office, some six blocks away, and reported the robbery.

Hannah

Her theme was that the President was "too full of care to sleep, and when sleep finally did come it was filled with nightmares."

Hannah appealed to GIs "as clear-minded men, don't let yourself be strung along in Johnson's nightmare."

The show usually ends with Hannah reciting the names, ranks and branches of the service of Americans killed in Viet Nam. These are released by the Defense Department in Washington. A schmaltzy version of "To Each His Own" signed off Friday's program.

ROBERTSON FINDS HOME WITH ILLINI

After being tried at four different line positions, former Pleasant Hill two-sport star Bob Robertson finally found a home on this year's University of Illinois football team and turned out to be one of the bright newcomers to the Illini's offensive line. The 6-3 1/2, 228-pound junior started all ten Illini games this fall and logged over 200 minutes of playing time.

A standout end in high school, and a stellar forward on one of Pleasant Hill's best-ever basketball teams, Robertson played end his sophomore season at Illinois, was moved to defensive guard during spring practice this year, was moved to offensive center then, after getting up to 230 pounds during summer school, was again moved to offensive tackle.

"Michigan State's Bubba Smith (listed at 6-8 and 283-293 pounds) was the toughest player I faced this season," commented Robertson from his Atlas (Pike County) home during Thanksgiving last week. "He was the toughest and the biggest, and Michigan State was without a doubt the best team we faced this season."

Robertson also added that one of his biggest thrills was catching two key tackle eligible passes for first downs against MSU, and caught another that set up a score against Purdue.

The marketing major also has some definite views on the caliber of football played in the Big Ten. "I thought the Big Ten players were a lot stronger than those we played out of the conference. I may be a bit prejudiced, but the Big Ten players seemed to be a lot quicker, and bigger. It's really a hitters' league, more so than say against Southern Methodist, whose linemen would sit back and fight. In the Big Ten they come and throw it to you."

Robertson, on a full football scholarship at Illinois, says the Fighting Illini are looking for a much improved season next year. "We only lose Kai Anderson and Ron Guenther off the offensive line, and Bruce Sullivan and Phil Knell from the defensive backfield. We're counting on the sophomores to fill in for Sullivan and Knell."

"We're pretty excited about next year. We could have a great team if we find replacements for those four boys and the guys improve. I plan to get up to about 240-45 pounds for next year, and I don't anticipate any problems keeping my speed. I will work with weights and participate in an off-season conditioning program."

On sophomore quarterback Bob Naponic, a passing surprise for the Illini this season, Robertson comments: "We think he was one of the best quarterbacks in the league, after a slow start. I personally feel he will be one of the best next season. I could tell a difference in the way he ran the team near the end of the season."

Robertson's future after graduating from Illinois? "I am in the agriculture industry curriculum and will probably go into that field although I don't know in what capacity as yet. As for a possible pro career, it depends on next year. If I can improve as much as I did this year and have a good season, it's a possibility."

HERE 'N' THERE: Almost half of the high school basketball coaches in the area will be serving their first season in their present post. Of the 33 prep schools covered, there are 13 new coaches. New faces are Frank Long, Jacksonville; Fred Curtis, Routt; Ralph Davison, Beards-town; Don Galloway, Brown County; Gary Calhoun, Franklin; Fred Schooley, Greenfield; Don Criswell, Meredosia; Dallas Hamerlinck, Portia; Robert Stange, Mt. Sterling; St. Mary's; Bill McCullough, Southwestern; Lou Silotto, New Berlin; Lynn Hartweg, North Greene; and Don Miller, Central of Camp Point.

When you see good crowds at high school football or basketball games do you sometimes wonder why the schools don't get rich? Recent figures on the per capita costs of athletics at Jacksonville High school may change your outlook. The 1965-66 costs (per player) and the particular sport included: Football, $86.25; Basketball, $151.00; Wrestling, $58.75; Track, $35.00; Tennis, $24.00; Golf, $26.00; and Baseball, $43.50. A total of 371 individuals participated in these sports at JHS last year, and the school paid out $25,408 in financing them. These figures include equipment, travel, salaries and other budgeted expenses.

The Jacksonville Fire Department will again award a team free throw trophy to the local prep basketball team with the highest final team free throw percentage. All three city teams are included. JHS won the trophy last season. . . . Sophomore Paul Reuschel, a 6-4 former Central of Camp Point ace, is a front runner for a starting assignment on the Western Illinois basketball squad that will open against MacMurray Thursday evening. . . . This sports department had a final record of 256-76, .770 in picking high school and college football games this season.

Chiefs Seeking Title Share At New York Today

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kansas City Chiefs take their high-powered offense into New York's Shea Stadium Sunday with a chance to clinch at least a share of the American Football League's Western Division title.

The Chiefs, boasting the league's top passer in Len Dawson and an offense that averages 33.6 points a game, will be opening a three-game road trip and can insure themselves of at least a share of the division crown with a victory over the rebounding Jets.

Kansas City is 8-2-1 going in. A Chief victory would eliminate Oakland and clinch at least a tie with San Diego. Oakland is now 5-5 after the 31-10 loss to Buffalo Thanksgiving Day while San Diego is 5-4-1 going into its game with the Broncos at Denver today.

Boeten is at Miami in the other Sunday AFL game. Houston has the bye.

New York, 5-4-1, and still alive in the East, broke a four-game losing string with a 30-13 victory over Miami. A victory is a must if the Jets' hopes are to survive.

Buffalo leads the East at 8-3-1 and Boston needs a victory over Miami to stay in contention. The Pats are second in the East at 5-2-2 while Miami is 2-8. They never have played each other before.

At Denver, San Diego will be coming off an idle week and is struggling to stay alive in the West. The Chargers are 5-4-1 while Denver is 2-8.

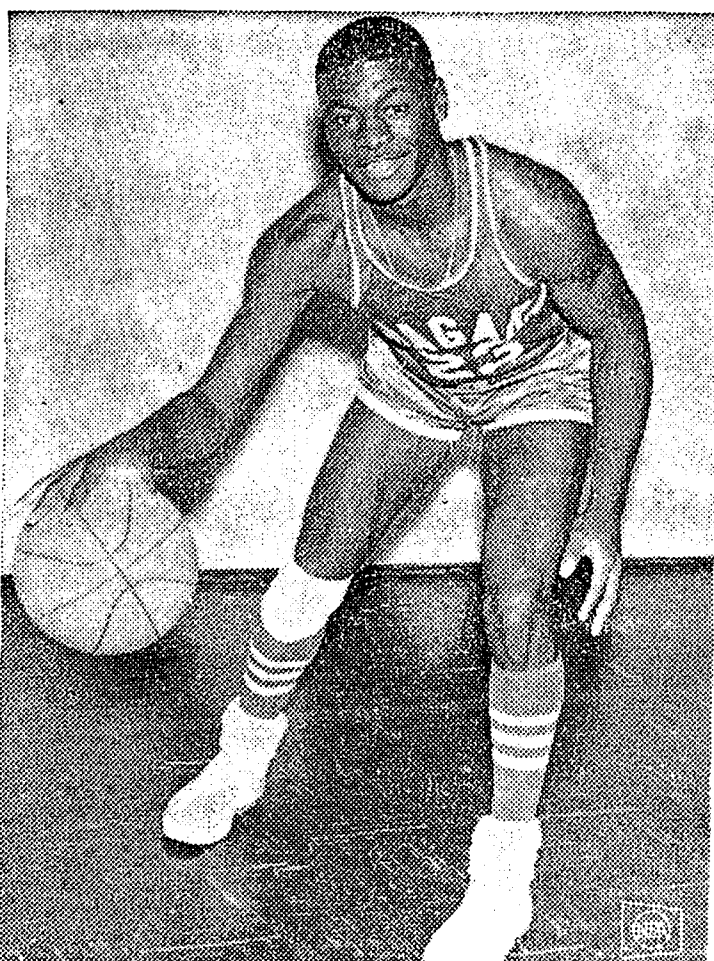

San Diego is 10-3 overall against the Broncos and have beaten them in their last six meetings. They're solid favorites to do it again, particularly so with the return of Lance Alworth, the ace receiver who will be back after an absence due to injury.

Alcindor, Bruins Top AP Cage Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — The UCLA Bruins, with fabulous sophomore Lew Alcindor, are favored to win the national collegiate basketball championship in the 1967 season that opens Thursday.

The choice of Coach Johnny Wooden's Bruins in the preseason Associated Press poll, announced Saturday, is hardly a surprise. Ever since Alcindor, a 7-foot-1 New York City high school star, enrolled at the Los Angeles school, followers of the Bruins have been eagerly awaiting his varsity debut. That will come on Saturday against Southern California.

UCLA, national champs in 1964 and 1965, was picked to make it three in a row in the 1966 preseason AP poll, but the handwriting was on the wall when Alcindor led the freshman to victory over the varsity in their annual game before the season started.

The Bruins ended with an 18-8 record and didn't even make the NCAA championship tourney, losing out to Oregon State in the Pacific 8. This time Wooden views the season with cautious optimism.

The Bruins beat out Texas Western, the defending national champions, and Kentucky, the team the Miners beat for the title last March, in the preseason voting by an Associated Press panel of sports writers.

UCLA polled 12 first place votes to three for the Miners from El Paso and got a total of 163 points to 143 for Texas Western. Kentucky got one first place vote and 120 points.

Irish Humble USC, 51-0

ND Adds To Claim Of No. 1

LOS ANGELES (AP) —

Awesome Notre Dame, ignited by a pair of 19-year-old sophomores, blasted Southern California 51-0 Saturday as the Irish strengthened their claim for the 1966 national collegiate football championship.

Quarterback Coley O'Brien, who took over for injured quarterback Terry Hanratty, and his 6-4 pass receiver Jim Seymour, were the key figures as the Rose Bowl-bound Trojans, champions of the Pacific-8 Conference, were buried under the highest score ever in the 38 games between Notre Dame and Southern Cal.

A crowd of 88,520 watched Notre Dame end its season with a record of nine victories and the 10-10 tie last Saturday with Michigan State.

The Trojans head for the Rose Bowl game with Purdue with a 7-3 record.

O'Brien threw three touchdown passes in completing 21 out of 31 throws for 255 yards and two touchdowns.

31-0 Buge At Halftime

The Irish built up a 31-0 halftime lead as the O'Brien-Seymour combo started in two second quarter touchdowns.

O'Brien's third touchdown toss went 23 yards to Dan Harshman, newly converted from the defense to replace one of the Notre Dame casualties from the Michigan State game. Conjar scored on a two-yard run and Bddy blasted nine for another tally.

Notre Dame intercepted two Trojan throws by quarterback Toby Page, returning them for touchdowns. Tom Schoen ran the first back 40 yards.

Dave Martin stole another and returned it 33 for the final score of the day.

Southern California reached the Notre Dame 10 in the third period, was promptly thrown back to the 28, and that was the closest they came to scoring.

Coach Ara Parseghian kept USC

his first-line troops in the battle until midway in the fourth quarter. At that stage, the second and third string players came in on offense, but it was not until later that the defensive starters were removed.

Illini Appear Strong

All-Out Scramble Seen In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — The super stars are gone and for the first time in seven years there will be an all-out scramble for the Big Ten basketball championship.

From 1960 through the 1966 season there was no trick in picking the Big Ten winner. Ohio State dominated the scene from 1960 through 1963, first with Jerry Lucas and then Gary Bradds.

Michigan, paced by the incomparable Cazzie Russell, followed with three straight championships.

Although there's always the possibility some sophomore might develop rapidly, the best bet for the next super star in the Big Ten is Rick Mount at Purdue. But Mount is a freshman and must wait another year.

Therefore the strength in the Big Ten will be found in experience and depth, and these factors give Illinois, Michigan State and Northwestern a slight advantage.

Strong challenges can be expected from Indiana, Iowa, Ohio State and Wisconsin, providing these teams can remain free from injuries. Michigan, Minnesota and Purdue are rebuilding.

Illinois has a veteran team, including captain Jim Dawson and 6-7 scoring ace Rich Jones. The Illini lost Don Freeman but hope to offset this with sophomore power in 6-7 Dave Scholz, 6-7 Steve Kuberski and 6-3 Denny Pace.

Michigan State lost Stan Washington and Bill Curtis but Coach John Benington is relying on Art Baylor and Lee Lafayette to go along with Matt Aitch, Steve Rymal and John Bailey — all solid performers.

Wildcats Appear Strong

Jim Burns, Ron Koslicki, Walt Tibori and Mike Weaver are familiar names at Northwestern, and they're all back this year to give the Wildcats a real shot at their first game crown.

Better height and improved rebounding figure to make Indiana a factor. The Hoosiers have nine lettermen back and excellent sophomore prospects in 6-8 Bill DeFeer and 6-4 Earl Schneider.

Iowa lost six lettermen but the Hawkeyes are coached by Ralph Miller, and that's a plus. Miller's teams are quick and begin pressing before the opponent gets into the fieldhouse. Gerry Jones, who was ineligible during the second semester last season, should be the Iowa scoring leader.

Buckeyes In Trouble

Ohio State already has run into injury trouble. Bill Hosket suffered a knee injury and is attempting to get by without surgery. If Hosket is right, the Buckeyes have a chance. Without him, they'll be in trouble.

Wisconsin came on strong late last season. Coach John Erickson is counting heavily on the finest Badger sophomore talent in years to go along with four returning lettermen including Dennis Sweeney and 6-9 pivotman Tom Schoeneck.

Michigan lost Cazzie Russell. Minnesota lost Lou Hudson and Purdue will be without Dave Shellhase.

Crimson Mat Team Loaded With Vets

On the strength of a large group of experienced returnees, the Jacksonville High school wrestling squad appears set for another strong mat season. The Crimson have 12 returning lettermen and at least one letterman at all but two weight classes.

Coach Tom Carmody's Crimson were 9-2-1 in duals last year, and added the Capitol Conference and Springfield Holiday Tournament crowns to their string of laurels. JHS also won the District meet.

Returning lettermen and their classes are 95-Dave Nelson, 103-Dave Hornbeck, 112-Art McPike, 120 - Marshall Brown and Rick Acree, 127 - Roger Spaulding and Dick Herring, 133-Chip Sutphen, 154 - Bob Dennis, 165-Steve Mauer and Terry Hammers, 180 - Paul Pollock and heavyweight - Wayne Fanning. Only at 138 and 145 do the Crimson not have a letterman back.

Top candidates at 138 are Alvin Hammers and Roger Thady, both freshmen, while Gary Wagner rates as the top 145-pounder right now.

Acree, Spaulding, Sutphen and Dennis were all District champions and also won conference crowns in their divisions last year.

Carmody says, "We expect to be tough, we have the kids to be tough. Pollock has come along as fast as anyone so far. Fanning has been out four years and I expect a lot from him. Others who have impressed me are Brent Wright at 112, Herrin and Dave Lasley at 165."

Challenge matches in each weight division will be held Monday, to determine who will wrestle in the frosh-soph meet against IBSSS Wednesday and against Southwestern Thursday.

New teams on the JHS schedule, most of them in tournaments, include strong St. Louis, Peoria Richwoods, St. Louis, Peoria, Richwoods, Joliet Central and University High of Normal.

Respective league leaders gained the upper hand by a 6-4 margin during last week's local circuit play. A breakdown of the reported races shows six teams increasing their leads, four having their margins cut, and two squads moving out from ties to gain the top slots.

Two league standings also resulted in ties, while one stayed put among the top runners.

No new city-wide highs were recorded during the Thanksgiving-limited action.

Three-Man Scratch Classic League play saw the Bowling Center amass week highs in the team game (578) and series (2194) departments on way to a 3-1 night.

The effort, sparked by the 798 shooting of George Manker, increased the leader's spread to five games over Wade and Dowland and Besco. Manker, who leads the circuit with a 195 average, tallied the high game on a 225.

Darrell Strubbe rolled impressive tallies of 239, 186 and 215 in Senior Commercial League action last week to gain a superb 640 set, and spark Newman's Shoes to a 2-1 night.

Strubbe's 239 effort, also high for the week, lifted Newman's to the high game (1145), while May's Music took the top series score (3105).

Cock-A-Doodle Doo holds a seven game advantage over the field. Chet Reum at 187, and Alan Smith and John Eoff at 186 lead the high average charts.

The Hopefuls, aided by the week's high game of 608, regained sole possession of the Tuesday Afternoon Ladies League top slot last week via a 2-1 outing, while the previously deadlocked Happy Losers bowed 1-2.

Keota Shouse, who sparked the Alley Cats to the high series mark (1707), recorded individual tops on scores of 182, 187 and 153-522.

Sue Crouse leads the league with a 157 average.

Super Bowl Plans Due This Week

NEW YORK (AP) — The date and site of the Super Bowl game between the champions of the National Football League and the American Football League will be set this week when the merged leagues meet separately and then jointly for the first time.

Pete Rozella, commissioner of the combined leagues, will preside at the historic joint meeting in midweek. Presumably the two leagues, meeting separately starting Monday afternoon, already will have reached agreement on the title game before the joint session, which is supposed to be confined to 1967 pre-season exhibition games.

The big game will be played either Jan. 8 or Jan. 15, depending upon the reaction of the leagues to the recommendations of a special committee which worked on the problem recently.

The Sugar Bowl in New Orleans or the Coliseum in Los Angeles are believed to be the most likely sites for the game.

However, invitations have been extended from Houston, Dallas, Atlanta, Miami, San Francisco and Oakland. There are some elements in Pasadena, Calif., who still want the game in the Rose Bowl.

The AFL championship game is scheduled to be played Monday, Dec. 26 in the home park of the Eastern winner. The NFL title game is due to be played Sunday, Jan. 1, also in the park of the Eastern champ.

A conflict with the Playoff Bowl between the NFL second-place teams, set for Sunday, Jan. 8 at the Orange Bowl in Miami complicates the selection of a date for the Super Bowl game. The Pro Bowl game also is set for Jan. 15 in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

TV Major Factor
Television will be a major factor. NFL games are carried on CBS and AFL on NBC.

The mechanics of running the draft with nine AFL teams and 16 NFL teams participating, now that New Orleans has been added for 1967, will present many headaches. It is likely that the draft will be held after the Super Bowl game, possibly in the same city.

When the two leagues get together they also must decide whether to use the two-point conversion rule, as in effect in the AFL, or the one-point rule, used by the NFL.

To Determine Divisions
In strictly NFL business, the league must determine the divisional setup of its new 16-team organization. The Western Conference will be permitted to pick between New Orleans and Atlanta as its eighth member.

The other team will go into the Eastern Conference which had Atlanta this season.

When the two eight-team conferences are realigned, each will be divided into two four-team divisions. The winners of the divisions will play next year for the right to play off for the league title. Then the eventual winner will take on the AFL champ.

The AFL may discuss expansion to a 10th team in 1968 but probably will confine itself to the 1967 schedule and matters involving the merger.

Georgia Ends Tech Perfect Mark, 23-14

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Once-beaten Georgia, ignited by Kent Lawrence's 71-yard scoring sprint, spoiled Georgia Tech's bid for a perfect season Saturday by whipping the Yellow Jackets 23-14 in their traditional football finale.

Bobby Etter, who missed his first extra point of the year after Lawrence's run, booted three field goals to provide the cushion needed by the seventh-ranked Bulldogs, whose defense was led by tackles George Patton and Bill Stanfill.

Patton, closing out a brilliant career, recovered a fumble, tipped a pass into the hands of a teammate and intercepted another pass which he legged to the Tech 22 in the closing minutes.

Tech Rallies
Georgia Tech, losing for the first time this year, generated only one scoring drive until the closing minutes, with Stanfill repeatedly throwing quarterback Kim King for big losses.

The fifth-ranked Yellow Jackets, who will play Florida in the Orange Bowl, drove 96 yards in 18 plays early in the second quarter for a 7-0 lead which was quickly erased by the Bulldogs. Quarterback Kirby Moore hit on passes of 11 and 23 yards and ran 16 yards to set up Georgia's go-ahead touchdown, scored by Brad Johnson on a two-yard plunge.

Lawrence started Cotton Bowl-bound Georgia's surge by returning a punt 71 yards for a first-quarter touchdown.

Tech's initial scoring drive was led by halfback Lenny Snow, whose running set up King's seven-yard touchdown burst. Sophomore quarterback Larry Good added another touchdown with five seconds left in a four-yard run.

Scrambling Fran Tarkenton, Terry Nofsinger and John Unitas hold the key to the National Football League race in vital Sunday games.

Green Bay upset by Tarkenton and the Minnesota Vikings 20-17 on Nov. 6 and upended earlier by rambling George Mira of San Francisco, must handle the Vikings this time to retain its Western lead.

The Packers, 8-2, need a victory at Minnesota, 3-6-1, to be sure of retaining their one-game edge over the Baltimore Colts. Zeke Bratkowski will be waiting in the wings in case Earl Starr's pulled hamstring muscle causes him more trouble. Baltimore, 7-3, is in the desperate position of having to beat Los Angeles, 6-5, or forget its dreams of catching the Packers in their big showdown game Dec. 10. The Colts return home after a dull effort at Detroit where Unitas was benched during a 20-14 defeat.

Rams On Upbeat
The Rams are on the upbeat, having humbled New York 55-14 and topped Minnesota 21-6 in their last two outings.

When the Colts played in Los Angeles Oct. 30, the Rams made all the yardage but Unitas pulled it out with a bomb to John Mackey while the rush line pressured Roman Gabriel.

St. Louis, 7-2-1, comes home to face the Pittsburgh team, 3-6-1, that upset them two weeks ago 30-9. The Cards had a bye last week, giving Nofsinger time to get used to being the No. 1 quarterback. The Steelers gave Terry a rough baptism, intercepting three and smearing him three times in a charge led by Ben McGee. The Cards can not afford to slip again.

Atlanta Invades Chicago
Atlanta, 1-9, a winner at last, thanks to the Giants, invades Chicago, 3-5-2, where the Falcons will get their first chance to meet the Bears who seldom roll out the welcome mat.

George Halas switched to Bill Wade last week and benched Rudy Bukich but the Bears' air game still is weak. Falcons are flying high after winning No. 1.

Allie Sherman's New York Giants 1-8-1, play at Washington, 5-6, the only team they have beaten. Injuries and a general Giants collapse, plus the improvement of the Redskins, hold out little chance of a repeat of the Giants' 13-10 early victory.

Philadelphia has the bye this week. San Francisco played at Detroit and Cleveland at Dallas on Thanksgiving Day so all four will be idle Sunday

Soph QB Paces 20-7 Triumph Over Navy

Army Ends Best Season In 8 Years

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Steve Lindell hit for touchdown passes of 42 and 23 yards about five minutes apart in the final period Saturday that sent Army to a 20-7 victory over Navy and its most successful football season in eight years.

It was the eighth triumph in 10 games for the underdog Black Knights, who lost only to top-ranked Notre Dame and bowl-bound Tennessee, and a glorious finish for young Coach Tom Cahill and his sophomore-studded team.

With the score tied 7-7 and the crowd of 102,000 in John F. Kennedy Stadium settled back for a possible second successive tie, Lindell, a 5-11 sharpshooter from Princeton, Minn., broke open the game with two beautiful scoring strikes, first to towering Terry Young for 42 yards and then to Carl Woessner for 23. Lindell converted two of the points from placement.

Navy took the ball from Army near midfield in the fading minutes but Dave Rivers, a defensive end from Richmond, Ky., rushed in and smeared Bill Newton for a 16-yard loss, and the last Middle hope died there.

The game ended with the ball on Army's 28 and the Navy quarterback, John Cartwright, trying desperately to hit with a long pass.

Army stunned Navy in the opening minutes when sophomore fullback Charlie Jarvis took a pitch-out and raced 49 yards for a touchdown. His path was smoothed by a rocking block by John Nerdel, who spilled Navy's Bob Havasy and Bob Lammers at the 15.

With Cartwright connecting on passes to his 6-foot-2 receiver, Rob Taylor, Navy slammed back and tied the score early in the second period. The touchdown pass was a seven-yarder to Taylor in the end zone.

During the 70-yard drive, Cartwright completed passes to Taylor for 20 and 11 yards and another to Mike Clark for 19.

John Church, Navy's place-kicking specialist, made good the conversion and later, just before the first half ended, made an unsuccessful try for a field goal from the Army 38.

Quarterbacks Hold Key In NFL Today

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Scrambling Fran Tarkenton, Terry Nofsinger and John Unitas hold the key to the National Football League race in vital Sunday games.

Green Bay upset by Tarkenton and the Minnesota Vikings 20-17 on Nov. 6 and upended earlier by rambling George Mira of San Francisco, must handle the Vikings this time to retain its Western lead.

The Packers, 8-2, need a victory at Minnesota, 3-6-1, to be sure of retaining their one-game edge over the Baltimore Colts. Zeke Bratkowski will be waiting in the wings in case Earl Starr's pulled hamstring muscle causes him more trouble. Baltimore, 7-3, is in the desperate position of having to beat Los Angeles, 6-5, or forget its dreams of catching the Packers in their big showdown game Dec. 10. The Colts return home after a dull effort at Detroit where Unitas was benched during a 20-14 defeat.

Rams On Upbeat
The Rams are on the upbeat, having humbled New York 55-14 and topped Minnesota 21-6 in their last two outings.

When the Colts played in Los Angeles Oct. 30, the Rams made all the yardage but Unitas pulled it out with a bomb to John Mackey while the rush line pressured Roman Gabriel.

St. Louis, 7-2-1, comes home to face the Pittsburgh team, 3-6-1, that upset them two weeks ago 30-9. The Cards had a bye last week, giving Nofsinger time to get used to being the No. 1 quarterback. The Steelers gave Terry a rough baptism, inter-

The Salvation Army Gives 'Helping Hand' To Those In Need

Few organizations can provide as many "human interest" incidents in any given time span as can The Salvation Army. Captain Harold F. Thomas of the Jacksonville Citadel Corps with headquarters at 331 West Douglas avenue regularly attends to situations which would prick the conscience of most residents of the county.

The Salvation Army has many activities, but those of a "helping hand" are the most dramatic.

A woman was deserted by her husband and needed emergency help with food and lodging, as well as counsel. Assistance was given by the local Salvation Army.

Recently several children, deserted by their parents, were left in custody of the Salvation Army until further plans could be made.

A parolee was given reference and aid through the local Salvation Army.

An unwed mother was in need of counsel and advice and came to the Salvation Army. Her case was referred to the Salvation Home for unwed mothers in St.

Louis, where she received necessary care.

A local family was burned out of their home. A place to stay, furnishings, and clothing were provided.

A transient family ran out of funds due to illness and auto trouble. Assistance was given.

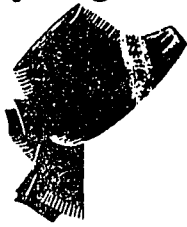

An alcoholic asked for help. Arrangements were made for rehabilitation in a Springfield center.

Surviving victims of a disastrous fire that took the lives of seven were assisted, and all survivors were offered housing, furnishings, clothing, and other help.

The local Salvation Army helped find a young man who had been missing for years, through a Chicago bureau.

A young man en route to Minnesota was hospitalized locally. He had lost his billfold, so the Salvation Army assisted him back home.

When you give the United Way you give to

An old man passing through the county needed medication; assistance was given.

The list, the names, the incidents can be recounted on and on. The Salvation Army acts to assist persons whom the members of the community individually cannot assist. It's the United Fund way!

Hunt Hit - Run Driver Saturday

Police Saturday night were searching for the driver of a 1959 light green Ford, which was involved in a hit-and-run with a second vehicle about 7:30 on South Church.

Driver of one of the cars, Mike Kaiser of Alexander, reported to police headquarters that he was southbound on Church, between Chambers and West Morton when he noticed a northbound auto veering into his lane of traffic.

Kaiser said he pulled to the curb to avoid striking the oncoming vehicle, but the auto still kept coming, striking his vehicle, and then proceeding on.

Kaiser then went to the police station to report the incident.

DRIVERS ESCAPE INJURY NORTH OF CITY SATURDAY

The drivers of two cars escaped injury in an accident five miles north of Jacksonville on U.S. 67 at 9:20 a.m. Saturday.

A car headed north and driven by Marian L. Twyford, 16, of 1201 Allen Avenue was attempting a left turn into a private driveway and was struck from the rear by a second auto driven by Anna E. Lowe, 32, of Virginia.

Mrs. Lowe was ticketed by investigating state police for failure to reduce speed.

Both autos were driven from the scene under their own power.

New Lounge At Holy Cross

OPEN NEW LOUNGE — To ease the strain on those persons who are awaiting the outcome of a surgical procedure on a relative or friend, a new lounge has been opened at Holy Cross Hospital.

Adjacent to the operating room suite on the fourth floor of the hospital, this new lounge has been furnished with comfortable and colorful chairs, a console television set, book shelves for handy reading materials, and the ever-welcome coffee cart.

Mrs. Clyde Schumm, director of volunteers, is serving as receptionist. She will be on hand to give needed information, offer an encouraging word to anxious inquirers, and pour a cup of hot coffee to anyone who needs a "pick-up."

This room replaces the row of chairs and benches along the hospital corridor, and should provide a worthwhile distraction for those who are waiting long hours.

Bertha Clark, Former Greene Resident, Dies

CARROLLTON — Mrs. Bertha Clark, 89 year old former Carrollton resident, died Friday night at the Illinois Masonic Home in Sullivan.

Mrs. Clark was born in Southern Illinois April 22, 1877, and was the last of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Scott. She was married in 1896 to U. D. Clark and he died seven years ago.

A daughter, Mrs. Leta Thompson of Mt. Vernon, survives. A daughter-in-law lives in Carrollton. There are six grandchildren, 19 great grandchildren and three great, great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Sunday in Sullivan with interment to be made there.

The survey will be used to assist the consulting firm in preparing renewal and conservation plans for the Town Square project, and will include exterior surveys of all buildings within the area.

He said that the team of surveyors will view and record data regarding the physical conditions, land use, and physical development of all properties within the area.

The area is bounded by Independence street on the north, Clay avenue on the east, Chambers on the south, and Church street to the west.

This survey, Pine pointed out, will be the first of several to be undertaken in the preparation of a plan for the central area of Jacksonville.

Pine also noted that the survey is expected to last four to five days. All surveyors will be provided with proper identification.

The local director also commented that any residents wishing additional information many contact him, John Pine, at 709 Farmers Bank Building, phone 245-8511.

Pine also told newsmen that, "We have recently completed interviewing firms which will do the marketability study."

"I would like to point out that this is not an additional survey, but part of the original plans."

He assured that this was necessary because of a recent change in federal policy that does not allow the contractor of the general study to undertake this part of the general plan.

"This," Pine said, "has to be done by a third party, under no obligation to the general planning consultants."

He added that in the past, the general consulting firm would sub-contract this phase of the survey.

The board of the Morgan County American Red Cross met at the chapter office Monday evening. Rev. Gerald Peterson, chapter chairman, presided. The yearly financial report was discussed with explanations to new board members present.

Jack Kurtz, disaster chairman, gave a report on the assistance given a family recently and assistance offered to others.

Oliver Buck, first aid and safety service chairman, reported that several first aid classes have been completed recently and that other courses are now being conducted. Mr. Buck told the board members that a life sized "Resusci-Anne" would be a great help in teaching life saving and first aid. Due to the interest and wide use of such courses, the board voted to purchase the equipment.

Mrs. Harry Killam gave a report on the "Ditty Bag" project. The local chapter shipped eighty-filled bags and has received

Begin Urban Renewal Surveys This Week

Initial surveys are to begin Tuesday in the Jacksonville "Town Square" urban general neighborhood renewal area, John Pine, director of the local urban renewal department announced Saturday.

Pine said that an eight-man team from Urban Planning Consultants of Chicago will conduct the exterior survey in the area.

The survey will be used to assist the consulting firm in preparing renewal and conservation plans for the Town Square project, and will include exterior surveys of all buildings within the area.

He said that the team of surveyors will view and record data regarding the physical conditions, land use, and physical development of all properties within the area.

Lagging Amendment

President Johnson's operations, though not serious, were another reminder of a disturbing fact. This is that, until the pending 25th Amendment to the Constitution is ratified, any signs of a presidential disability confront the nation with unresolved questions. Who is to determine when the chief executive is unable to carry on his duties? Who is to decide when the period of disability has ceased?

The pending amendment meets these problems. Had the states acted on it promptly, as they should have done, it would now be part of the Constitution. As it is, only half of the states have approved the amendment. The minimum necessary is 38, which leaves 13 to be heard from before the amendment can take effect.

This situation could have been avoided, even though some state legislatures were not in session in 1966. They could have been called into special session to act on this vital matter, but few governors saw the necessity for this.

Next year almost every legislature will be in session. Citizens have the right to expect that the necessary 13 votes to place this amendment on the books will have been obtained by the end of January.

Force The Last Resort

The United States was wise to abstain from the U.N. General Assembly vote urging Britain to use force if necessary to bring Rhodesia to heel. For though our country does not favor the rebellious Ian Smith regime which asserts independence from Britain rather than give Rhodesia's black majority a say in the government, we must not support use of force except as a last resort.

Britain and 15 Western European nations also abstained. Happily, this weakens the resolution demanding that Britain use military power to bring an end to the rebellion. The world will be much better off when the Rhodesian impasse has been solved. Use of force might only make it worse, however, and should not be tried until mandatory economic sanctions and other possible measures have been employed.

Romney, Nixon: Top '68 Bets

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. WASHINGTON (NEA) — A quick telephone check of a few key Republican leaders around the country indicates that, in the glowing aftermath of GOP victories, it is still Michigan's Gov. George Romney and Richard Nixon for the 1968 presidential nomination. The leaders warmly welcome the addition of Charles Percy of Illinois, U.S. Senate winner, and Ronald Reagan, governor-elect of California, to the sweepstakes roster, but the feeling is they will serve mostly to add zest to the race and give it a surface look of flexibility and openness.

Romney would have been a serious 1968 prospect even if he had done no more than win big for himself, which he did this time by 870,000 votes, but he also met the conditions set partly by his detractors and partly by cold professionals. He helped pull in Sen. Robert Griffin and five congressmen.

Nixon gets a healthy rub-off of credit for the fact that the GOP picked up 47 U.S. House seats, since he concentrated his campaign efforts in many of the winners' districts. He is still a strong southern favorite, and his stock was not hurt when President Johnson attacked him at the end as he were Mr. Republican.

Riding on a 400,000-vote margin, the attractive young Percy is seen by party figures as sure to be a steady attention getter in Washington. But, with respect to 1968 presidential chances, one leader says:

"That would be an improbable thing." Another, in the Midwest adds: "The way I understand it, even his own people (in Illinois) are not quite ready for that yet."

Though the "not yet" sentiment seems widespread, one seasoned political organizer thinks Percy could crank up quickly even with what will be his limited experience in public office. Anti-Romney moderates — and there are some — surely will be drawn to him.

Reagan, like Percy, is seen as a man who needs time in office to prove himself before going for the big job. Says the same veteran organizer: "If I were advising Reagan, I'd tell him to sit in Sacramento and learn how to be one hell of a topflight governor."

Both Reagan and Percy swiftly indicated intent to serve out their full terms, but this may prove tougher for Reagan, the new hero of his party's strong conservatives.

Professionals believe these ardent folks will be busily forming Reagan clubs from here on and that his disavowals of interest will be ignored. His hand could be forced.

Nixon, for all his high status with many party regulars, suffers from the drain of the conservative interest toward Reagan. More and more, too, professionals are arguing that he must go the 1968 primary route to have any chance. Says one: "People are likely to say to Nixon: 'Show us you're a winner.'"

Some of Nixon's friends think the primaries could prove bloody and costly for him. Yet he has to lick the "loser's image."

Romney likewise has his problems. The biggest is the nagging notion, expressed by one midwestern leader, that the governor still has not proved his grasp of major foreign and domestic affairs. Romney, moreover, is believed to be in serious need of more staff people knowledgeable in national politics, who can get him and his moderate supporters some early momentum before any opposition can crystallize as Goldwater forces did in 1964.

Problems notwithstanding, Romney and Nixon nevertheless remain the big choices in a field made wider and more exciting by newcomers Reagan and Percy.

By RALPH W. LOWE, D.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

So much of our Thanksgiving is for things. This year I give thanks for people. That was what Saint Paul was writing from time to time, "I thank my God always on your behalf."

I remember as a child being asked to list the things for which I was thankful. You know that kind of a list, including house, clothing, food and all of the necessities as well as the luxuries of life. And if one is starving, one can thank God for that crust of bread.

But there are the persons who make life meaningful and this year I gave thanks for these men of courage and ability.

It is important that we bowed our heads and gave thanks before we ate our Thanksgiving dinner.

It is just as important to thank God for a Beethoven symphony or a Bruch violin concerto.

It is just as essential to thank God for a good book or a singing poem.

Most of all, it is more important that we thank God for those persons of courage and imagination who have made our bread and our clothing meaningful.

Bishop Brent once described a leader as "a foremost companion" and it is these men who have been out on the frontiers fighting for rights, sharing their faith and bringing us an understanding of what Amos Wilder called "the clemencies of God." These are our foremost companions.

Years ago a man by the name of Herzog scaled Everest, however hard, until tonight. Anyone can do his work, however hard, for one day. —Robert Louis Stevenson, English poet and novelist.

FINDING THE WAY

Meaningful Thanksgiving

only the others could know. If everyone could know my joy touched with humility. It was not just one party that climbed today. It was a whole expedition. I thought of the others perched on the slopes at our feet. And I knew it was because of their efforts to sacrifice together that we knew toil, pain and joy. My fervent wish is that those of us who were united in the face of death could remain fraternally united through life.

It is on Thanksgiving that we think of those who struggled, believed against desperate days, trusted when others gave up, loved when the loving was difficult and led as a foremost companion. For these "I thank my God always on your behalf."

Ann Landers:

Help Pals or Become Friendless

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Our two teen-agers are in high school. Both are excellent students. Almost every evening at the dinner table, the children lament the brutal competition for grades and the unbearable pressures to keep their averages up so they can get into the "best" colleges. Now get this, Ann: They say cheating is considered a way of life by most students. Almost nobody thinks it is wrong.

My husband asked our teens if they cheated and they both said "No." We believe them because they have demonstrated a high degree of integrity since early childhood. Then the older one said he has let friends copy off his paper during exams and he has given his girl last year's book reviews, but he didn't consider this cheating. I was shocked and my husband hit the roof.

The discussion lasted over an hour with both teens insisting they would be completely friendless if they refused to help their pals.

At times their arguments sound logical but I know they are wrong. Please discuss this subject in your column. I'm sure it will be of interest to students, parents and teachers. —WEE VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS.

Dear Voice: Real friends elevate our standards and help us to think well of ourselves. Your children are sadly mistaken if they believe they are benefitting their pals when they help them cheat.

The person who is completely honest does not encourage dishonesty in others. Your teens are being unfair to the students who study and work for grades when they hand over answers to goof-offs who are looking for something for nothing.

Dear Ann Landers: Mother received a piece of fine China from a friend who visits us every year. The gift arrived last week, broken to smithereens. Mother wrote and thanked her, making no mention of the breakage.

My sister and I say mom should have told the truth. Mom says she didn't want to upset the woman because it's "the thought that counts." Do you feel, as we do, that mom was dishonest? — E. AND G.

Dear E. and G.: When a gift arrives damaged the sender should be notified at once. Usually gifts are insured. The idea behind insurance is to protect against loss or damage. Mom was wrong—but not dishonest.

Dear Ann Landers: Please say something about parents who give their children initials instead of names.

I have heard men referred to by their initials, and I have no objection to this, because these men actually do have names. But don't you think it is a dirty trick to name a child B. K. or J. R.? —COMMITTEE OF ONE

Dear One: I think initials instead of names are O.K., but then "I've" got a name. I'd like to hear from people who have only initials. How about it? Do you like initials or do you wish you had a name?

Confidential to Born to the Purple: Sorry, but your reasoning breaks down from the outset. Good manners, kindness, consideration for others, and personal integrity are not qualities confined to the "well born." The social register lists hundreds of individuals who are "well born" according to your definition but they have none of these qualities.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Salt Necessary in Most Diets

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Q—I often suspect I am eating too much salt for my health.

A—The truth is that salt is necessary, according to the American Medical Association, to maintain the proper balance of constituents in the blood, the tissue fluids and the cells. The normal individual eating too much salt gets rid of it through the kidneys, but this is no sign that it has injured the kidneys. Except for persons with poor circulation, edema, or other cause for which a physician may restrict the salt intake, there is not much danger of eating too much salt.

Q—My boy is doing poorly at school. My mother says I should feed him more brain foods. Will you suggest some please.

A—There are none. Fish, nutmeg and other foods have been designated by some faddists as brain foods. There is no such thing as a brain food, any more than there is a little toe food or a left ear food. An adequate diet nourishes all the tissues of the body.

Force Truth if Sister Seems to Dislike You

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My older sister and I have a young one who is shortly getting married. She is having a big formal wedding with seven attendants, but we have neither been invited to the ceremony and reception nor to stand up with her. People ask us if we have bought our bridal party dresses and we don't know what to say. We are so hurt and upset and don't know how to deal with this treatment.

ANSWER: Why don't you ask this sister why she's so carefully cut you out of her wedding arrangements?

It's more than probable she'll tell you she can't stand you. The chances are she's just nervous enough about snubbing you (along with the usual bridal jitters) to tell you the truth—that she doesn't like you.

Which should be just fine so far as you are concerned. Tell the truth by your sister, you'll be free to know that you are just as disinterested in maintaining relationship with her as she is with you.

What upsets us in these situations is not always the other person's dislike of us but our own uncertainty about their feeling.

We don't know whether she's kicked us in the teeth out of a temporary irritation at us — or whether she wants to be finally done with us. We don't know if the kick has been given us because she's disappointed in her wedding presents, is developing the flu or if she has really come to the conclusion that she wants out of her life. We can confuse the worry over this uncertainty with what you call "hurt."

We tend to imagine that we're suffering from our sister's snub when we're really suffering from uncertainty of her feeling toward us.

Under such circumstances, it is not a bad idea to so arrange matters that she is compelled to tell us how she feels.

Some people, particularly psychoanalysts, are marvelously quick at perceiving how someone else feels toward them. That's not because they know so much about the someone else but because they know so much about themselves. They're wise to all the tricks by which their own hostilities try to disguise themselves as "nicer" feelings.

So when they come up against hostility in the someone else, they recognize it through its disguise very quickly. But we can't expect ourselves to be so fast. We're so scared of our own dislike of our sister that we can't quickly register her dislike of us. Which is why we have to no organize matters that she has to come up with the truth and get us off the hook of obligation to love someone who can't stand us.

UREA PAY OFF as a protein source in beef cattle rations. When U.I. animal scientist E. E. Hatfield (kneeling) and U. S. Garrigus compared urea with soybean oilmeal, they found that the proper feeding of urea in silage or as a mixed supplement produced more gain at lower cost, as the cards above indicate. The cattle in the background are some of the 80 steers fed in the experiment.

Urea Replaces Bean Meal In Moist Corn And Silage Rations

Beef cattle feeders may not have to suffer losses in feed efficiency and daily gains when they substitute urea for soybean meal as a protein source in corn silage—high moisture corn rations.

University of Illinois animal scientists U. S. Garrigus and E. E. Hatfield report that preliminary results of a summer beef feeding experiment indicate that urea works as well as soybean meal for furnishing nitrogen in the ration. Here's how the 80 northwestern steers in the feeding trial performed the first 133 days:

Twenty steers receiving a daily ration of 20 pounds of corn silage, 15 pounds of high-moisture corn and one pound of soybean meal averaged 2.88 pounds of gain daily. A second group of 20 steers receiving 20 pounds of corn silage, 15 pounds of high-moisture corn and one pound of urea-ground corn mixture averaged a three-pound gain per day. The 40 steers receiving daily 20 pounds of urea-fortified corn silage, 15 pounds of high-moisture corn and one pound of ground corn averaged a daily gain of 2.88 pounds.

The researchers point out that since all groups were fed equal weights of feed with the same crude protein equivalent, the feed efficiencies varied directly with the gains.

At current prices, substituting urea and corn for more expensive soybean meal can reduce feed costs more than one cent per pound of gain, says Hatfield.

Can Be Fatal

But successful feeding of urea requires good management. Hatfield emphasizes. High concentrations of urea are toxic—sometimes fatal—to cattle, especially if consumed rapidly, he explains.

Livestock producers also tend to blame the nitrogen source rather than the method of feeding for poor performance, he says. To get good results in feeding urea supplements, they must be thoroughly mixed with the rest of the ration.

A "built-in" safe, practical and convenient method of adding urea to beef cattle rations is to supplement corn silage with urea and the necessary minerals at silo-filling time, says Hatfield.

Urea dissolves and disperses evenly through wet corn silage harvested at 30 to 35 percent dry matter. This even distribution is difficult to get when mixing urea in feeds. And when cattle eat rapidly at the feed bunk, rumen utilization of urea's nitrogen is lower, making the toxicity risk greater than when urea is fed in silage.

Easier To Feed

Adding urea and the necessary minerals at silo-filling time is a practical way to fortify silage and grain without the problem of supplementing the grain at feeding time. Also, additives apparently prolong fermentation and lower the freezing point of silage, making winter feeding easier.

But additives will not correct mistakes in silage-making techniques, Hatfield says. Errors in moisture and packing in the silo can cause poor silage regardless of the materials added at silo-filling.

Cattlemen may hear the final results of this feeding trial at the U. of I. Cattle Feeders' Day in Urbana April 13. Final feedlot performance, live grade, carcass grade, dressing percent and the effects of dietary vitamin E on vitamin A stores also will be reported.

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

DOES MAMMA MAKE MEAT PRICES?

The nation's housewives are protesting about what they view as "the high prices of food." They seldom blame farmers for the high prices. Rather, they direct their wrath against the local grocer. But their campaign, including picketing and boycotting of food stores, may cost farmers many millions of dollars. Producers of livestock are likely to suffer most.

Many women (and probably men, too) think that the grocer sets prices too high — makes too much profit. These women do not realize that the consumer always exerts a powerful influence on prices, especially prices of meats.

To be sure, the prices that we see on the meats today were selected by the grocers. But are they too high? Or too low? What are the right prices?

If prices are really too high, housewives can, and do, bring them down — and rather quickly. When meat prices are too high, the housewives do not take all of the meat that is being produced. It begins to pile up in the coolers at the stores and at the packinghouses.

Must Be Moved

Owners of the stores and packinghouses must then act quickly. Meat is highly perishable. The meat from animals that were slaughtered last week must be sold this week, or it will spoil. If it spoils, the owners will suffer heavy losses.

To avoid such loss, retailers and packers cut prices to increase sales. Packers must then cut the prices they pay farmers for livestock. The nation's housewives, by restricting meat purchases, thus force price reductions for both meat and livestock.

Often the prices posted by retailers are too low. Housewives then buy meat faster than it is being produced. Supplies in the coolers at the grocery stores and the packinghouses are depleted. Prices are raised to slow purchases and prevent empty meat counters. Packers need more meat, so they bid up prices of livestock. The nation's housewives, by taking meat faster than it is being produced, have raised prices of both meat and livestock.

In the short run, farmers take the prices that are dictated by the housewives. They must sell their animals as they reach preferred market weights. These weights are, for example, about 225 pounds for hogs and around 1,000 pounds for cattle. If the animals are kept much beyond these weights, their feed bill soon becomes excessive.

May Quit Producing

If livestock prices are consistently unsatisfactory to farmers, some of them will stop producing meat animals. Low prices for hogs, particularly in 1963 and 1964, caused many farmers to quit the hog business. So many quit that supplies of pork in 1965 were often one-fifth below normal.

The shortage of pork in 1965 brought higher prices for pork and hogs. Farmers responded by increasing production — but it takes at least a year to get any substantial increase in the output of pork. It will be at least another year before pork supplies can be increased to normal levels.

In summary: In the short run, say a couple of weeks or so, each grocer sets the prices of the meats in his store. Over an intermediate period — for several months — the nation's housewives control prices. In the long run, farmers exert a strong influence on prices of meats and livestock by varying the amounts they produce.

May Order Trees For '67 Spring Planting Now

You may now get your copy of the state nursery price list and application blank for reserving your forest planting stocks for next spring, says James Neuschwander, Greene county farm adviser.

Purposes for which state nursery stocks may be used include the growing of forest products, including Christmas trees, erosion control, game food and cover, and improvement of existing forest stands. State law forbids use for ornamental shade tree or landscaping purposes.

The State Division of Forestry operates two tree nurseries, one in Mason county and the other in Union county.

Broad-leaved or hardwood species offered include ash, black alder, black locust, black walnut, cottonwood, gray and silky dogwoods, multiflora rose, pin oak, red gum, red oak, river birch, soft maple, sycamore, tulip poplar and white oak.

Needle-leaved or softwood species include bald cypress, red cedar and jack, loblolly, red, scotch, short leaf and white pines.

Two wildlife packets — one for northern Illinois and the other for the southern part of the state — include three and shrub mixtures designed to stock wildlife food and cover areas.

Must Have The Facts To Win World Food Race, Says Liebnow

SAN ANTONIO, Texas—There is a deep and growing concern today throughout the world over the outcome of the food-population race, Robert C. Liebnow, president of Corn Refiners Association, Inc., Washington, D.C., said here last week.

Speaking at the San Antonio Kiwanis club's Farm-City Week program, Liebnow said, "For some time now the food-population problem has been discussed as though it were a problem of the future. It is not a problem of the future. It is here now."

Pointing to dwindling supplies of American food surpluses, Liebnow said, "The threat of world hunger has been picturesquely described as second only to the threat of an all-out H-bomb war. We have officially declared war on that threat by stressing that food-short nations help themselves and by removing the surplus — only restrictions on our assistance, but how the war is to be fought and its costs, which will be formidable, are hidden in a deep and penetrating fog."

"Gravely . . . of Challenge"

"Insofar as I can determine, nobody knows exactly the requirements of the two programs which form the whole, particularly on a country-by-country basis. The awesome gravity of the gigantic challenge confronting us is stated periodically, but what specifically we must do to meet it is lacking."

"Every step of the space program seems to have been spelled out in detail. Surely, preventing hunger of such intensity and scope that it could result in world chaos is as important as getting to the moon," the corn refiners' executive continued.

Liebnow said the current furor over chain store boycotts and higher food prices could be harmful to American agriculture since the higher income "desperately needed" by farmers must be earned in the marketplace.

"Our farmers will not produce for an all-out war on world hunger unless they are guaranteed sufficient incentives to close the wide gap which separates farm from non-farm incomes," he predicted.

Facts Required

Liebnow advanced a six-point program to correct the situation. The program he put forward is as follows:

"1. The Government should tell the public the facts about farm prices and food prices and should emphasize that neither is responsible for the inflationary situation in which the country finds itself."

"2. Government farm policy should insure a fair return for farm products in the market place, even if this means higher food prices."

"3. The resources required to meet the world food deficit should be estimated on a country-by-country basis and a plan for their acquisition and use should be drafted as quickly as it is possible to do so."

"4. The public should be told the details of the plans, what will be required to put them into effect and the consequences of our failure to do so."

"5. Other nations which can contribute to the program should be asked to help with the planning, financing and execution."

"6. The aid of private enterprise should be sought and incentives should be given for full participation in the Food for Peace program."

With today's trend toward bigger farms and higher costs, tax management deserves top priority in your farm business, especially as tax-filing time approaches.

To avoid paying unnecessary taxes, start now to plan your end-of-the-year strategy, advise University of Illinois farm management specialist Fay M. Sims and agricultural law specialist John Henderson.

Estimating your taxable income for 1966 is a good place to begin. If your income will be higher than it was last year or is in normal years, Sims and Henderson suggest these possible ways to lower taxes:

—Buy and take delivery on paint, herbicides, fertilizer, seed or other supplies you will need next year. The general rule is that such expenses must be "ordinary and necessary" to the business.

—Wait until 1967 to sell grain or livestock. But remember that holding livestock for the longer period may cost more than you would save in taxes in terms of a lower market price or the extra cost of gain at heavier weights. And if you deliver grain this year and want to defer collecting the money until 1967, be sure you have a written contract with the elevator stating that the money is not to be paid and that you cannot collect it until a specified 1967 date.

—Buy the equipment or machinery you need, and take the "fast write-off," or additional 20 percent first-year deduction. Remember, however, that the total depreciation allowance for the life of the item can be only so much and using the fast write-off reduces depreciation you can claim in future years.

—If someone owes you money for labor or services, delay collection until 1967.

—Sell any property on an installment contract. If you receive more than 30 percent of the sale price in the year of sale, however, all of the gain is taxable in that year.

—Defer reporting income from crop insurance if you intend to buy replacement grain or crop. And if you were forced to sell livestock because of drought and reinvest the proceeds in the same kind of livestock within a year, no taxable gain is recognized.

If Income Is Lower

Sims and Henderson report that if your taxable income is lower for 1966 than it was last year or in a normal year, you may postpone some deductions until 1967 in these ways:

—Sell additional grain or livestock. Sale of livestock in December may be desirable from a tax standpoint, although at lighter weights the per-pound price may be lower.

—Cull your breeding herd and sell now.

—Sell any capital items no longer needed in your farm business.

—Postpone some deductions until 1967 by using your charge account and paying after January 1.

Sims and Henderson point out that the tax rate this year will be the same as in 1965. But there has been some speculation about a tax increase next year. If you consider this increase a possibility, you might want to make some sales now rather than in January.

Annual Sheep Day Program In Urbana

Intensified production is the theme of research to be reported here at the annual University of Illinois Sheep Day December 9.

The program features A. L. Pope, University of Wisconsin animal scientist, speaking on "Selecting Breeding Stock for Tomorrow's Head."

R. O. Nesheim, head of the U. of I. Animal Science department, will officially open the program at 10 a.m. in the Stock Pavilion. But early visitors may tour the sheep research facilities during open house beginning at 8:30 a.m.

The morning program includes reports on lamb confinement in Illinois, flock health in confinement, space requirements for lambs on slatted floors and non-protein nitrogen in sheep nutrition.

The afternoon program also includes G. R. Frelk, Monier Sheep Co., speaking on the production scene for 1967 and Frank C. Hinds, U. of I. animal scientist, discussing lamb growth and carcass value.

The U. of I. student Hoof and Horn club will serve lunch in the Stock Pavilion.

BRIMFUL and running over

By Jim Brim

We have entered the Holiday Season, a season which brings forth a feeling in many people that would be good to keep the year around.

We always think of those less fortunate than ourselves at this time of year, but they are in need all through the year.

The Apostle Paul wrote "Faith, hope, charity (or love) these three, but the greatest of these is charity." Let us try to maintain our charity throughout the year.

With our harvest late this year many people are late in getting feeder cattle. Even though you are late don't rush into a deal without knowing the full details about the cattle and the deal you have made.

The item causing great concern for many is the time and place of weighing. Be sure you know this before you buy. The less shrink you pay for the more per pound you can afford to pay.

Be sure your pencil is well sharpened and well used before you sign.

Now you should

... check your tire chains.

... check moisture of stored corn.

... go hunting — carefully.

... kill rats.

... read Matthew 11:28.

... spray hogs for lice.

... check the Christmas lists.

Be sure you know what you are signing BEFORE you sign your name.

There are reports of exorbitant installment contract prices for many home improvement items.

Deal with a local, reputable dealer. He expects to keep satisfied customers.

The trouble with being a parent is that by the time you are experienced you are unemployed.

Illinois Valley Angus Auction Held In Greene

There were 8 Angus bulls and 38 females sold at auction at the Illinois Valley "Stars on Parade" sale held at the Carrollton sales barn Nov. 17.

The bulls brought an average of $458 and the females averaged $319.

The top bull sold for $580. It was consigned by Joe Reznicek of Hettick and purchased by Leo Franz of Grafton.

A two-year-old heifer bred to Eileenmere 2199 headed the female class at $400. She was consigned by John J. Toland of Pleasant Plains and Robert Firth, Greenfield, was the buyer.

The top cow and calf combination was consigned by Wilbert Joyce of Greenfield and purchased by Twitchell Angus Farms, also of Greenfield, for $550.

The association will hold its annual spring sale March 9, 1967.

Schluter Of Greene To Help Viet Farmers

CARROLLTON — Darrell Schluter, who has been county supervisor of the Farmer's Home Administration in Carrollton since March, 1965 has been reassigned to the Agency for International Development and will be on duty in Viet Nam for 18 months leaving Carrollton in January.

Schluter will leave here November 28 for four weeks of special training in Washington, D.C. after which he will spend Christmas at his home here and leave in early January for Viet Nam.

He is one of 20 men from the Farmer's Home Administration who are being sent to Viet Nam, to assist the Vietnamese government in setting up credit systems for farmers and also to assist in cooperative organization.

Schluter has been with the Farmer's Home Administration for the past three years. During his husband's absence Mrs. Schluter and family will leave Carrollton to make their home nearer relatives soon as living accommodations can be found.

ALEXANDER YOUTH IS GIVEN AWARD

Robert A. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnson, of Alexander and a member of the Alexander Ag 4-H club, has received the "God-Home-Country Award" for 1966.

This honor award is given by the National Catholic Rural Life conference to Catholic youth for their accomplishments in church and community activities.

Active participation in rural organizations for two years, together with church activities qualify for the reception of this award. Bob received it through his active participation in 4-H work.

The cost of individual food items in terms of labor required to purchase them shows a substantial reduction since 1947. For example, an hour of labor today purchases about 70% more beef and about 75% more pork than it did then.

He sells the blue glass-lined silos that have been erected in recent years in Sangamon, Menard, Morgan, Scott, Cass and Mason counties, along with automated feeding systems and soil erosion control structures.

Illinois 4-H Champs Ready For Congress

Illinois' 38 top 4-H Club members will attend the 45th National Club Congress in Chicago November 27 — December 1. They will join more than 1,600 delegates who represent 2,185, 145 club members from 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Club Congress is one of the most important events in the 4-H year. Delegates are older 4-H'ers who have shown outstanding leadership in 4-H programs and in community activities.

Nearly 60 business firms, foundations, associations and individuals provide funds for national and regional winners. Donors also arrange banquets and entertainment to honor Club Congress delegates.

Entertainment features of the Congress will include a get-acquainted party at the Hilton International Ballroom, tours of Chicago museums and industries, a "pop" concert at Orchestra Hall and the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago's Union Stockyards.

The 38 delegates to Club Congress were chosen from 78,000 Illinois 4-H members. Representing west central Illinois are:

Wanda Ball, 19, New Canton, Pike county, home economics.

Maureen Andrews, 18, Quincy, Adams county, health.

Charles Edwards, 17, Pawnee, Sangamon county, poultry.

Sue Grosboll, 19, Petersburg, Menard county, clothing.

Henry Kallal, 17, Jerseyville, Jersey county, electricity and Santa Fe railroad scholarship winner.

Robert Reich, 18, Mt. Sterling, Brown county, tractor.

BANQUET FOR 4-H LEADERS TUESDAY

The 4-H Leaders Recognition banquet sponsored by the Morgan County 4-H Federation will be held at the Masonic Temple in Jacksonville Tuesday night, Nov. 28 at 6:30 p.m. All 1966 Morgan County 4-H leaders will be recognized at this affair.

BALANCING IN SPACE

By WALTER B. HENDRICKSON JR.

When our first Apollo astronauts go to the moon they will travel from an orbit around earth's equator to an orbit around the moon's equator, as shown in the picture above. Then two of the three astronauts will board the Lunar Module and land at a pre-selected site on the moon's equator.

On later flights, however, the Apollo spacecraft may stop at a point about 65 per cent of the way to the moon. From this libration point, where the gravity of the earth and moon balance each other, the Lunar Module could go on to land on any place on the moon.

The use of such balance points in space was explained to a world audience of space experts at the 17th Congress of the International Astronautical Federation in Madrid last month by Dr. Leo Steg of General Electric's Valley Forge Space Technology Center. He pointed out that there are five such libration points where a spacecraft would stay the same distance from the earth and moon. In these libration points the gravity of the earth and moon balance each other.

Two of the libration points which astronomers have known about for centuries lie in the moon's orbit; one 60 degrees behind the moon, and another 60 degrees ahead of it. Faint clouds of cosmic dust have been discovered in these locations.

Another point lies some 40,500 miles directly behind the earth and moon, some 35,700 miles from the moon. The fifth is on the opposite side of the moon and some 214,200 miles from earth.

Hot Diggity Dog
Calling all dog lovers—that is hot dog lovers. Do you want to know three new ways to make that all American "hotsa doga" taste even better? If so read on.

Cheese and Wiener Crescents
8 wieners
1 can Quick Crescent Rolls
2-4 slices of cheese
Unroll dough from one can Quick Crescent Rolls; separate into eight triangles. Split the wieners and insert a quarter or half slice of cheese.

Place wieners on each triangle and roll up as directed on label. Place crescents on ungreased cookie sheet, cheese side up. Bake at 375 degrees for 10-15 minutes or until golden brown. Serve hot.

Whooper Dog Sandwich
1 raw hot dog per sandwich
1 slice of cheese
For each sandwich spread mayonnaise on both sides (inside) of the bread. Cut the hot dog into four pieces, place on the bread. Place the slice of cheese on top, spread with mayonnaise, put on the slice of bread, cut and serve.

Pineapple Franks

1 hot dog and slice of bread per person
(1) 8 1/2 oz. can crushed pineapple
1/2 c. mustard hot dog relish
Split franks lengthwise; arrange on bread. Drain can of pineapple. Blend with hot dog relish. Spoon over the franks, broil.

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Beyond the bridge at the foot of a long hill extended a narrow winding road. Tall weeds heavy with seeds bordered the damp road. In a long depression along the shoulder was a muddy pool of water. This pool had no special attraction for us hikers except to warn us of possible wet and muddy boots if we should carelessly extend our route through it.

In fact, at first we ignored it, for Purple Finches were dining on the abundant weed seeds just before us, and two of them were males, sparrow-sized birds that looked as if they had been "dipped in raspberry juice," as Roger Tory Peterson has described this glamorous bird. We are always happy to find, with patient searching, a Purple Finch even in the top of a tall tree; but here at our very feet were five of these charming finches.

To our greater surprise, a male dropped to the ground, salvaged some of the weed seeds that had been knocked from the seed-pods, and then did the unexpected. He advanced toward the mud puddle and turned it into a bathing pool—a lowly one even in our opinion.

And then the great show began. Birds flew in from all directions—eight other species—joined the Purple Finches. The large sturdy Harris's Sparrow, rare in our area; the smaller and more slender rusty Fox Sparrow, displaying its rufous tail; the smaller Tree Sparrow, with its red-brown cap and its black stick-pin; the little Song Sparrow; the Slate-colored Junco, with its flashing white outer tail-feathers; the White-breasted Nuthatch, with its black cap and beady black eyes; the Towhee, with its rusty sides and white tail-spots; and our gentleman Cardinal with his red crest and black face—all joined the bathing party, a motley crew. Not to be outdone by Mr. Purple Finch, Mr. Cardinal chose just the right spot to have his image reflected in the water and to be two of himself.

Sometimes birds are jealous of one another at a bird bath or a feeding station, and a real battle can develop. For some reason this mud puddle had not only become a refreshing bird bathing-pool; it was a peace pool too. There was room for all, and plenty of water to slip and flip in this undisturbed bird haven.

In due time, without any effusive good-byes, each wet bird

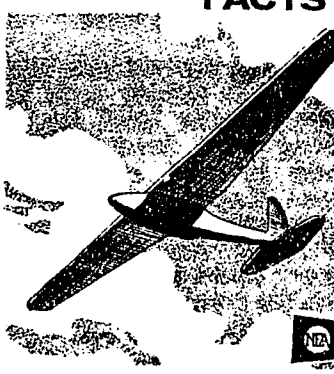

Prayer Poem

Sleeping Pet

By Mary Pence Claywell

Sleep little Toby, sleep and rest,
Cradled in Mother Earth's warm breast:
Your journey's ended, and nought can mar
Your final rest, 'neath the friendly stars,
Where the moonbeams play on the fallen leaves,
Spread like a blanket, by Autumn breeze;
In a shady, green spot, where sweet birds sing,
Wild flowers will blossom, wee one, in spring,
And woodland fairies, perhaps will play
Around the grave where your bones decay:
For you'll NEVER rise from your sleep, we pet,
To answer for sins, or feel regret.
Your journey's complete, though short, the span,
Yet you fitted into a Perfect Plan:
I know, little pet, you had no "soul,"
And will never cross, where "Jordan" rolls,
But I am sure He is near, understanding all,
Who "Knows when even a sparrow falls."
So I'm unashamed of a "parting tear,"
And a "Thank Thee, Lord" for Your short stay here.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Modern glider planes are capable of amazing aeronautical performances, says The World Almanac. Powered solely by air currents, they have been known to fly more than 600 miles in one flight and reach heights above 40,000 feet. During World War II, the Germans made use of the noiseless planes for surprise attacks. Some gliders can carry over 100 men.

'A Special Thanksgiving'

By John Rankin

The family's plans for a cozy log fire and talked some "special" Thanksgiving are more. Then Aunt Millie went to the organ and began to play, electricity going off, but it makes them think of times when the holiday was made meaningful by helping other people. They wonder if there is someone now whose day they could brighten.

"What about the elderly couple that moved into the Kendall place down at the end of our road last summer?" Aunt Millie asked as she came in from the kitchen. "I'm ashamed that I've never called on them but now would be a good time to get acquainted."

Uncle Ed was already headed for the door. "Come on, son," he called back over his shoulder. "We'll throw a bale of hay and a warm blanket on the sleigh and get right down there."

"And don't come back without them even if you have to carry them out bodily," Aunt Millie said with a laugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Ginder, a warm, friendly couple, were delighted to share the festivities of the day with others and found the sleigh ride a special sort of treat too.

Aunt Millie greeted them at the door and welcomed them in. "I'm so glad you came," she said with a warm and friendly smile.

A little later everybody stood at the candlelit dinner table with heads bowed while Mr. Ginder gave thanks for their blessings. Then they sat down and ate, and they talked and laughed with a lighthearted gaiety that made the day seem bright and cheerful.

After the bountiful meal was finished at last they gathered in the living room before the

Cherry-Blackburn Vows Saturday At Winchester

WINCHESTER — White mums and glads were used with greenery at the candlelight altar of the local First Baptist church Saturday evening, November twenty-sixth, when Miss JoEllen Blackburn became the bride of David Ray Cherry.

The Reverend Hays Wiltshire, pastor of First Baptist church, performed the ceremony. Tapers at the altar were lighted by Brad Bell and Sandy Sittin, Manchester, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Hays Wiltshire was soloist and Miss Sandra Kunze-man was at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of the Lloyd Blackburns, Winchester route two and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cherry, Jr. of Winchester.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Don Young of Mattoon, was matron of honor. Miss Sharon Sittin of Winchester, cousin of the bride, Miss Barbara Cherry, Winchester, sister of the groom and Miss Cindy Becherer of Belleville, were the bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical floor length gowns of lavender peau de soie with purple velvet bolero jackets. Their floral headpieces had short blusher veils and each carried a cascade of lavender and white snowflake mums.

Jeff Young of Mattoon, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer and Tracey Lane of Jerseyville, cousin of the groom, was the flower girl.

The little flower girl, and those lighting altar tapers, were gowned alike in floor length frocks of purple velvet with white lace trim. Their headpieces were bows and the flower girl carried a nosegay of lavender and white snowflake mums.

Mike Cherry of Winchester served his brother as best man. Fred Blackburn, brother of the bride, Ted Pardo of Pinckneyville and Charles Eichhorst of Bloomington, were ushers. Groomsmen were Ken Bradshaw, Winchester; Kevin Lawrence, Lincoln and Larry Breeding of Winchester.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white Chiara crepe with elegant Venise lace encircling the Empire waist and length of the chapel train. Her French illusion veil fell from a cluster of satin and pearls. She carried white Amazon lilies, stephanotis, lily of the valley and ivy.

The mother of the bride wore a green knit suit with satin trim. Her accessories were in green and her hat white satin. The groom's mother chose beige lace with matching accessories. Each wore a white orchid corsage.

At the reception held at the Triple Flame, west of Jacksonville guests were registered by Sue Sittin of Winchester, cousin of the bride. Others assisting were Mrs. Dee Bell, Manchester, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Fred Blackburn, Winchester, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Sherry Frost, Winchester; Mrs. Alan Hudson, Carbondale; Mrs. Don Nelson, Jacksonville and Mrs. Bill Lawson, Manchester, cousin of the bride.

The couple is spending their honeymoon in Colorado after which the groom will leave Dec. 30th for Air Force duty in London, England. The bride will join him there at a later date.

Mrs. Cherry graduated from Winchester High School and until her marriage attended Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. The groom also graduated from Winchester High School and attended Illinois College before enlisting in the Air Force.

Among the special guests were Mrs. Lee Sittin of Roodhouse, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Froman Beach and Mrs. Etta Lane, Jerseyville, grandparents of the groom.

GERMAN LEADERS CONFER—BONN—Willy Brandt (R), mayor of West Berlin and chairman of the Social Democratic Party, confers with Free Democratic Party (FDP) leader Erich Mende during Tuesday meeting that might produce a new West German government. After breaking the coalition with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democrats, the FDP is now reported to strongly favor a coalition with the SDP for a slight but workable parliamentary majority. In such a situation, Brandt would be chancellor and Mende probably vice-chancellor and foreign minister. (UPI Cablephoto)

WALKS AND TALKS WITH FARMERS

BY OUR AGRICULTURAL EDITOR

A hundred years ago this month the Chicago Republican sent its agricultural editor on a tour of downstate Illinois. He visited livestock breeders and feeders in northern Illinois, and came to Jacksonville to get a story on Prof. Jonathan Baldwin Turner and inspect his unusual "farm" or nursery. Turner then lived at what is now 1152 West College and his plantings extended north to West State street and west to what is now the front lawn of the Illinois School for the Deaf. Webster avenue was not established at that time.

The Chicago man seemed to be rather perplexed, uncertain what he was seeing, and the next day he got into real hot water when he attempted to describe the "model farm" of the "Insane Asylum" when he was shown around by the superintendent, Dr. Andrew McFarland.

But his account is interesting, and makes one wonder what the business of farming will be like in another hundred years.

At that time there were millions of unfenced acres in northern and northwestern Illinois, and the Osage Orange hedge seemed to be the answer — which it was until the Joliet mills began putting out miles and miles of inexpensive "bobbed wire."

Also of interest was the attempts of prairie settlers to raise their own firewood. Woodlots often were miles away, and were sometimes held by speculative owners who demanded high, unreasonable prices for fuel the farmer had to have.

Here's the visiting editor's report:

At Jacksonville I called on Professor Turner. Scarcely any industrial man visits this beautiful town without doing so. In industrial educational matters he is regarded by many as an oracle; but no matter how he is esteemed in this respect, no one fails to feel compensated for, and inspired by, an interview with him. His quiet, cordial greeting, his unaffected simplicity, his overflow of original thought on all subjects, but particularly those relating to the advancement of industrial men and their interests, his power to demonstrate his peculiar theories, logically and practically, all help to quicken the visitor with a new intellectual force, and set him thinking new thoughts. After an hour's conversation with him, I asked him to walk through the grounds, confident that with such objects before me I should gain something of practical interest and value for the readers of the Republican. Nor was I mistaken; for the first thing that attracted my attention was:

THE BEE HIVES

Prof. T. has a better mode of protecting his bees from cold in winter than burying them. He makes a square box about three inches larger than his hives, and suspends it over them. By this means he secures to them ventilation, an air chamber about the hive, and all the protection they require, he says.

MOTH TRAPS

He has an ingenious contrivance for catching moths and destroying their larvae, which

I cannot describe intelligently, and quickly replace the without a sketch, which I failed to make, but I saw a very simple moth trap beside his hives, and a very efficient one, too, judging by the number of victims it contained. It was a glass jar containing vinegar and water sweetened. There were a half dozen, more or less, moths in it.

THE AFRICAN SUMAC

My attention was called to this tree by the remark that it would produce more firewood in the same time than any tree he (Prof. T.) knew of. The tree is not remarkable for the beauty of its form, for it has an awkward straggling growth. Its foliage, however, has a tropical richness of color and form. It has few small branches; its limbs grow almost as large as its body, smooth and clean, and adapted in this respect to furnish a large supply of firewood, with economy of time in its preparation. It was growing in a crowded position, and yet spread out its arms widely. It propagates itself from its own roots, like the black locust and silver leaf poplar. It is said to make excellent firewood.

THE PEACH FOR FIREWOOD

Whether the above named tree is superior to the peach, in all respects, for firewood, is a question in my mind. The latter will produce a large amount of excellent fuel in a very short time, planted in groves. I saw at Prof. Turner's back door a large pile of this wood, embracing the bodies, larger limbs, and twigs, which had been prepared for fuel. A few trees had furnished the family fuel the entire season. Prof. T. says it is equal to hickory wood as fuel. The twigs and small branches kindle as readily as hickory bark, and furnish equal heat. The stumps and roots of the beheaded trees throw out new shoots, and make wood rapidly, and quickly replace the growth removed. An acre planted thickly with peach trees will quickly furnish all the fuel a family can use. This is no novel discovery. Prominent men of the Illinois State Agricultural Society have hitherto made the same recommendation, some of them having peach groves for furnishing fuel alone. Get the pits and plant them where it is desired the trees shall grow.

OSAGE ORANGE HEDGE

Here, in Jacksonville and neighborhood, will be found some most excellent hedges. Prof. Turner is a pioneer, if not the pioneer. His grounds are surrounded with them and divided by high screens of it. These illustrate the fact that an emerald hedge of any form, height, or thickness may be made of this plant, and beautiful and impenetrable screens for protection as well. Here are also thousands of plants, one or two years old, which will be scattered through the State to beautify and enliven the unbroken prairie landscapes.

The manner of planting the seed of the Osage Orange here is such as render the cost of production less than by the ordinary mode. A combined seeding machine and cultivator is used, which is Prof. T.'s invention. It plants and cultivates four rows at a time. A description of it without an engraving would be unintelligible; indeed we believe it was patented, and, just before the war, parties in Jacksonville undertook its manufacture. It is very complete in its adaptation to this use, or for the planting and care of root crops. It is so nearly like the machine used in planting and cultivating root crops in the best districts of Germany, that I predict there will, sometime, not long hence, be a large demand for it. The Chicago editor was right when he said that the combination planter and cultivator invented by Turner had been manufactured before and during the Civil war. It was, by blacksmiths and mechanics in Jacksonville, Bethel, Concord and Lancaster, Cass county.

The machine suffered because the gears were weak and faulty, but its primary trouble was that it was years ahead of its time. When in use the driver rode on the implement, with his weight contributing to the correct operation of the tool.

Although the scarcity of help and the demand for food during the Civil war period greatly enhanced the sale of improved agricultural machinery — particularly reapers and mowers — most farmers drew the line on buying a "riding" plow or cultivator. Landlords and bankers, in particular, didn't trust "a man too lazy to walk and who wants horses to pull him around."

This feeling persisted in many parts of Illinois for many years. After a Logan county neighbor came home from France in 1919 he asked a Dutchman for the hand of his comely and blonde daughter, and was promptly turned down because "he wants to ride yet." The young couple immediately eloped to St. Louis, but weren't welcomed when they returned home. In a year, though, a 10 pound boy arrived, which the parents immediately named for "old Fader." Whereupon the proud Grandpa got to hanging around the new baby so much that he had to be put on an appointment basis — he could visit on Thursday and Saturday evenings, and Sunday afternoons, only.

Grandpa soon traded in his walking plows and cultivators and when somebody mentioned his son-in-law the old Dutchman would say, "Dat, Scharley, he be a schmarl buoy."

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:

The recent fall in prices has caused great alarm in financial circles. It has fallen heavily on shippers and dealers in western cattle and hogs causing a loss of $30 per head on cattle recently shipped. One day last week John T. Alexander of this place lost heavily when he sold 607 head of fat cattle in the New York market.

HEAVY BURGLARY — The dwelling of Mr. Ralph Thornley, who resides near Arenville, was broken open on last Sunday, while the family were attending church, and $3,416 in gold and silver and $200 in greenbacks, taken from a wooden chest where the money had been put for safe-keeping. An old coat in the chest, containing in a pocket $7,000 in U.S. bonds, was thrown aside by the burglar as worthless. Mr. Thornley is an old and well known citizen of this section.

May S. L. Moore, the radical Sheriff elect, has been commissioned by Gov. Oglesby, and took charge of the office last week. Mr. Moore has selected R. L. Clark for his deputy and Caleb Letton for jailer. The new incumbent is said to be personally a clever gentleman, but there are strong reasons for belief, however, that the contest for sheriff will result in the decision that Mr. Mayfield was elected.

Mr. Richard Dines has placed us under obligations for a can of delicious fresh oysters. Friend Dick keeps a first class restaurant on West State street, and is one of the best professional cooks in the west. Long may he sway.

Corn in wagons has been selling on the square this week at fifty cents a bushel. The article offered is generally inferior and unfit for shipping.

On Monday night a dwelling house at Orleans Station took fire and burned to the ground. The building was burning when the night train going west passed, but we have not learned particulars.

From the Beardstown Central Illinoisian:

Almost a panic prevails in the New York money market. Gold is constantly falling, and prices are on the decline.

There is a great deal of talk about impeaching the president. Why don't parents go to the school house and see how their children are getting along?

The great tunnel, for supplying Chicago with fresh water from far out in the lake, is nearly completed. The success of this great work will be one of the marked triumphs of the age. Large amounts of new corn are brought to town every day; price 50 to 55 cents.

From the Carrollton Gazette: The official election returns, being all in but one county, indicate the Republicans carried this state by 55,987. This makes allowance for the county of Calhoun, which has not been reported as yet.

We notice, from time to time, a number of very fine hogs moving toward the slaughter pens, although the prices now paid are mere nominal.

A number of traffickers in whisky have been arraigned this week and fined for violating the ordinances.

The secretary of the Greene County Agricultural society informs us that the cost of the amphitheatre at the Fair Grounds was $2,330.40, which amount, all will agree, was laid out to good advantage and will be of lasting benefit.

HUMORS of the day

November, 1866

A Paris art critic, wishing to damn a certain picture recently, did his worst by saying that "the visitor could easily find the picture in question by the groups of Americans who continually surround it in admiration."

One of our exchanges, in noticing the presentation of a silver cup to a contemporary, says: "He needs no cup. He can drink from any vessel that contains liquor, whether the neck of a bottle, the mouth of a demijohn, the spile of a keg or the bung of a barrel."

An old lady, who had insisted on her minister's praying for rain, had her cabbages cut up by a hailstorm, and on viewing the wreck, said she "never knew him to undertake anything without overdoing the matter."

FOREIGN

November, 1866

The French Ministry of Foreign Affairs says that the whole expeditionary force in Mexico will be withdrawn in the month of March.

Englishmen drink much beer, and pay much money for it. A Manchester paper says that a hotel and restaurant keeper in that city asks $120,000 for the good will of his business; his profits are $25,500 per annum.

Wide Participation Sought For Program

The Department of Agriculture will seek a wide participation in the 1967 feed grain program to balance supply and demand and safeguard farm income.

Lester E. Martin, chairman, Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, says that "wide-spread farmer participation will be urged for the program again next year because fence-to-fence planting could easily mean production of more corn and grain sorghum than is needed and could be profitably sold. With a couple of years of normal weather, feed grain producers would be back where they were in 1961, before the diversion programs were undertaken to stabilize supplies and prices."

The 1967 feed grain program, therefore, looks toward limited acreage diversion and increased expansion of production geared to needs — in other words, an increased output from about 12 to 15 million more acres without the risk of a drop in income.

Diversion payments under the 1967 program will be available to growers on "small farms" (those with feed grain Bases of 25 acres or less).

Price Supports, Loans Farmers will be able to qualify for price-support payments and loans on their 1967 corn and grain sorghum crops by signing up to take part in the 1967 feed grain program and then diverting 20 percent of the farm's feed grain base and meeting other general program provisions. Growers on small farms will be eligible also for diversion payments equivalent to 20 percent of the total county support (loan plus price-support payment) for the first 20 percent of the base acreage diverted, up to the total base.

For corn, the 1967 price support loan rate has been increased from $1.00 to $1.05 per bushel, national average, and the payment rate stays at 30 cents a bushel on the projected yield of the acres planted up to 50 percent of the base acreage. For grain sorghum, the loan is increased from $1.52 to $1.61 per hundredweight, national average, and the payment stays at 53 cents. Loans again will be available on all corn and grain sorghum produced on participating farms.

Advance Payments All farmers participating in the 1967 feed grain program may receive advance payments at sign-up time, Edw. J. Meagher, chairman of the Illinois Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State committee, announced recently. Last year, only farms receiving diversion payments were eligible for advance payments in early spring. Half of the total price support payment will be available this year to those who request it. "Judging from last year's program, we estimate that advance payments in Illinois will exceed $30,000,000," Meagher said.

Sign-up in the 1967 program will begin late in January. The exact date will be announced soon.

JERSEY WOMEN PLAN DAY CARE CENTER

JERSEYVILLE — The Jerseyville Junior Woman's Club is sponsoring a Day Care Center in Jerseyville and is requesting the cooperation of all parents, interested people and civic groups in the community.

The club, which has been working on the project of a program for trainable retarded children in the area states the purpose of the organization in the following manner: (1) to help the retarded child to assume his rightful place in society as a valuable asset in his home and community; (2) the education of the public as to the meaning and implication of mental retardation; (3) the education of and assistance to parents in problems of mentally retarded children and (4) to interest educators, schools, legislatures and others in the need for the education, recreation and therapy of mentally retarded children.

Mrs. Victor Oberbeau and Mrs. William Wimmersberg, members of the Jerseyville Junior Women's Club, visited the Day Care Center for children in Hardin to observe a typical day in the teaching of the children there and to observe the progress they have made.

A meeting was held with Mrs. Arthur Jaul, president of the Calhoun County Association for Retarded Children to learn the requirement and work needed to form an organization and a program for the mentally retarded locally.

Enorma Takes Her Bath

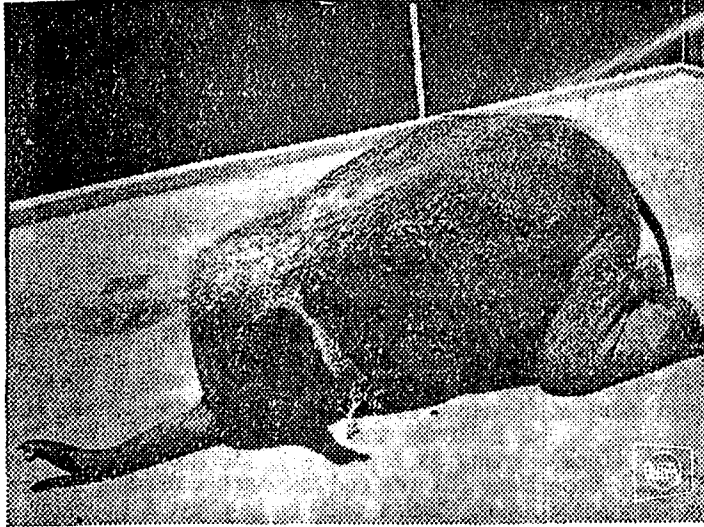

The young lady at right, Enorma by name, is the star of the San Francisco Children's Zoo. Part of her daily routine is a thorough hosing down to keep her as fresh and dainty as 1,200 pounds of baby Indian elephant can be expected to be. Does she like her bath? What do you think?

Begging for more, above left, Enorma goes down on her knees for a chestful of cool water from keeper Charles Le Fevre's hose. Completely undone now, she goes limp all over for...

Red China Faces New Political Turmoil

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Reports from inside Red China indicate the country is in for a new wave of political turmoil. There is evidence of rising resistance these days to "the great cultural proletarian revolution" which has served as a screen for a widespread purge and a tense struggle for power. The general political department of the Chinese army itself is the source of a report of attempted sabotage of a trainload of young Red Guards. They would have plunged to their deaths, according to the announcement, except for the action of a young soldier who, posthumously, is hailed as a hero and model for the army. The Red Guards — most of them under 18 and indoctrinated since the cradle — have been rampaging since mid-August in the cause of defending "Mao Tse-tung's thinking." The hundreds of thousands of youngsters, often recklessly cruel, have struck at everything which even breathed of a suspicion of opposition to the current leaders of the Peking politburo. There has been a series of reports of clashes between the Red Guards and those who are resisting them. The attempted sabotage of the railroad train appears to underscore the seriousness of this resistance. Such reports hint that at times the Red Guards get out of control of those who are using them and that the youths are spreading discontent and dissension through the country. At the same time, however, the Red Guard movement represents an important handle for those currently on top in the Peking Politburo. The movement obviously was created to enforce their will. In creating the Red Guards, the politburo not only bypassed the 9-million strong Young Communist League and other organizations such as the All-China Students Federation, but it virtually dismantled the league. The league's members range in age up to 40 or more.

DRY SKIN NEEDS CAREFUL CREAMING

More than 70 per cent of American women suffer from dry skin on their hands. Dryness occurs because oil-supplying glands on the palms and backs of the hands are scarce. To lubricate and guard against dryness and aging, use a hand cream daily. Choose a cream made for your particular problem. For extra dry skin, use a medicated or an antidermatitis hand cream to relieve the drying that comes from using detergents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wodark are making their home at 2616 Tyrell Drive in Jennings, Missouri.

A—Pass. You don't understand what your partner is doing but you have a losing spade and he could have shown that control by bidding five spades instead of four no-trump previously.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner opens three spades. You South, hold:
♠ 3 2 ♥ Q J 9 8 ♦ J 10 9 8 ♠ A K 2

What do you do?

Answer Monday

If you watch the average declarer follow suit he almost always plays his lowest card. Experts have a tendency to mix them up. Sometimes they have a reason, other times they are merely keeping in practice so as not to form a habit.

All of this is part of declarer's strategy. He does not want to let his opponents know that he has played his lowest card. There is a lot more strategy possible in the play of high cards. Here is another old timer from Fred Karpin's book on strategy. South is declarer at three no-trump. His normal play is to win East's jack of spades with the queen. Then he goes over to dummy with a heart and tries the diamond finesse. If it works he makes a lot of tricks but this time it loses and West is likely to abandon spades and go after clubs. If he does this the defense will pick up four quick club tricks and South will be one down.

The expert in deception will win the first trick with the ace instead of the queen. Then he will lose the some diamond finesse but it is dollars to doughnuts that West will continue spades. South will make his queen of spades after all and go about his business of winning the rubber.

South's false - card would have been a poor play in match point duplicate because it would cost him an overtrick if the diamond finesse won. In rubber bridge he could afford to give up this overtrick. Of course, if West shifted to a club anyway the false-card would really be expensive. East would cash five clubs and then give his partner four spade tricks.

Cards, Patriots Resume Own Chase

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Patriots, after watching Dallas and Buffalo feast on Thanksgiving, net their own tables Sunday with title hopes on the menu.

The Cardinals need a revenge victory over Pittsburgh to keep cooking their Eastern Division championship ambitions in the National Football League, while the Patriots dine at Miami in an effort to stay alive in the East in the American League.

Elsewhere in the NFL, Green Bay tries to retain its lead in the West at Minnesota while challenging Baltimore hosts Los Angeles. Atlanta invades Chicago and New York visits Washington.

In the AFL, the New York Jets battle for survival in the East against Kansas City, the runaway leader in the West, and San Diego travels to Denver.

Cards Could Tie

A victory for St. Louis, 7-2-1, would again pull it even with Dallas 8-2-1, which dropped third place Cleveland 26-14 Thursday.

But the Cardinals again must rely on quarterback Terry Nofsinger, the replacement for injured Charley Johnson. Nofsinger was at the helm two weeks ago when the Steelers trounced the Cardinals 30-9.

Green Bay, 8-2, with Bart Starr off the injured list, has revenge in mind against Minnesota in their nationally televised contest. The Vikings are last in the West at 3-6-1, but Fran Tarkenton scrambled them past Green Bay 20-17 three weeks ago.

Johnny Unitas, intercepted five times in Baltimore's 20-14 loss to Detroit last week, tries to roast the Rams, 6-5. The Colts, 7-3, beat Los Angeles earlier 17-3.

Bears Test Atlanta

Gale Sayers leads Chicago, 3-5-2, against Atlanta, fresh from its first victory ever, a 27-16 triumph over New York, while the Giants, 1-8-1, are the heavy underdog against Washington, the only team they have beaten.

San Francisco beat Detroit 41-14 Thursday.

Jim Nance needs eight yards to become the sixth man in AFL history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season as he leads Boston against Miami, 2-8. The Patriots, 5-3-2, need the victory to keep up with Buffalo, which won its fifth straight at Oakland 31-10 on Turkey Day for a 8-3-1 record.

Kansas City, 8-2-1, can clinch a tie for first place with a victory, but should have its hands full at New York as the Jets, 5-4-1, try to remain in contention behind Buffalo.

San Diego, 5-4-1, the only team with a chance to catch the Chiefs, will try for a second victory over Denver after winning 24-17 earlier.

BARNES ON WAIVERS

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Split end Gary Barnes was placed on waivers Friday by the Atlanta Falcons, who brought up rookie tackle Rich Koeper from the taxi squad.

Barnes, former Clemson standout, was acquired by the Falcons after he was dropped by the Chicago Bears. Koeper was signed as a free agent after graduating from Oregon State.

MORRILL OUT FOR SEASON

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants, already missing five players for the season, have lost quarterback Earl Morrill for the season because a broken bone in his right wrist has failed to heal properly.

Morrill, 32, in his 11th year in the National Football League, suffered the wrist fracture three weeks ago and had been expected back next week. He was placed on the injured reserve list Friday.

The Peninsula Grays of Newport News, Va., will be members of the Kansas City Athletics farm system in 1967. The Carolina League team was connected with the Cincinnati Reds the last three years.

In the last two years Sandy Koufax has won 53 games. He is the first National League pitcher to win 50 or more in two years since 1952-53 when Robin Roberts won 28 and 23, respectively.

AN ICE FOLLIES dance routine it isn't. Rather, it's another hockey rhubarb—this one between the Detroit Red Wings and the New York Rangers.

NL Rookie Of Year Now Seeking .300

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Tommy Van Helms is ambitious. He's the 1966 Rookie of the Year in the National League, but he wants to bat .300 for the Cincinnati Reds next season.

"It's a thrill," said the 25-year-old Helms, who is lounging around during the off-season at his home in nearby Mount Holly. He had just been informed of his rookie selection.

"It builds your ego. But personally my biggest goal is to hit .300. That is what I wanted most of this past season, but I tapered off in September and didn't make it. I want to start early next season," said Helms.

The husky-built Cincinnati third baseman was the top-heavy choice of a 20-man committee, composed of two writers from each National League city. He received 12 votes.

Shortstop Sonny Jackson of Houston was second in the voting with three, followed by Tito Fuentes, San Francisco shortstop with two. Other votes went to Cleon Jones, New York Mets centerfielder; Randy Hundley, Chicago Cubs catcher; and Larry Jaster, St. Louis Cards pitcher.

Third Red To Win Honor

Helms wound up the season at .284, his first full one in the majors, and became the third Cincinnati player to earn the rookie of the year title. One of those was Pete Rose. The other was Frank Robinson, whose trade to Baltimore opened the way for Helms to get into the Reds lineup on a regular basis.

"I thought I was ready in 1965," said Helms. "I had hit .309 for San Diego the year before. But when they sent me back in '65, I got down on myself."

"I was struggling along, hitting about .190, then Eddie Leishman, the general manager at San Diego, had a talk with me. He told me the biggest mistake I could make would be to quit after one disappointment."

"He told me there were scouts in the park every day," Helms said, "and that Cincinnati wasn't the only team in the majors. If the Reds didn't bring me up, somebody else would be glad to get me. That's what got me going in my final season at San Diego."

The Wisconsin Supreme Court said baseball's immunity from federal antitrust law made Wisconsin powerless to enforce its state law against the sport.

Illinois in a "friend of the court" brief signed by Atty. Gen. William G. Clark said Illinois last year adopted a new antitrust act modeled in many respects after federal laws.

"Illinois has attempted to vigorously assert its new act against local violations of well recognized antitrust policies," Clark's brief said.

"At the threshold, however, Illinois is confronted with the decision of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, which if allowed to stand unmodified may seriously impede its attempt to enforce a state antitrust policy which will complement federal antitrust policy and extend it to otherwise unreachable areas."

Clark said it was the contention of Illinois "that merely because Congress does not choose to regulate a particular business or industry, that industry is not to be deemed exempt from state regulation."

The U.S. Supreme Court is expected to make known next month whether it will hear argument on the Wisconsin appeal and later announce a final decision.

Robinson said he was out of bed the day after the operation, was able to bend the leg Thursday, and Friday he put all his weight on the leg "and moved around pretty good."

"I still feel pain at the incision and in the joint, but that's to be expected," Robinson told a news conference at Johns Hopkins Hospital. "I'll probably have that for a few weeks until the body builds up a fluid to prevent the bones from rubbing together and replace the washer-type cartilage that was removed."

Robinson said he expects to leave for his Los Angeles home early next week, and then be on crutches for another one to three weeks.

During his recovery period, Robinson will do some prescribed exercises to build up his knee for spring training.

CHAMPAIGN—Prof. Leslie A. Bryan, shown here in file photo, has been appointed acting athletic director at the University of Illinois by University President David Henry. Bryan is director of the University's Institute of Aviation. The appointment followed the resignation of athletic director Doug Mills who held the post since before World War Two. Mills said he is resigning because the University "needs fresh and new leadership."

Koufax Had No Choice Says Doctor

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This is an exclusive report from Dr. Robert Kerlan, the doctor who has treated Sandy Koufax the last few years when his career was threatened first by a blood stoppage in his throwing hand and finally by the arthritic elbow which dictated his retirement.

Sandy Koufax

"Both subjectively and objectively, you've got to honor Sandy's decision. In attending any patient, no matter what the ailment, you've got to allow for the patient's own feeling. Whatever the diagnosis by the doctor, if the patient says he feels pain, that's it."

"There is no question at all in my mind that, in the past two seasons especially, Sandy felt not only pain, but severe pain... excruciating pain on certain pitches."

"Professionally, I am amazed that he got through this last season so magnificently. By all rights, he shouldn't have done nearly as well as he did."

"I do not think he could pitch another year — not regularly, not occasionally."

"I will continue to treat Sandy because his elbow is in such poor condition that he will need treatment for plain, everyday living. The effect of the condition is that Sandy will probably never be able to straighten his arm without feeling intense pain, not even letting it hang at his side normally."

"There is no operation possible to cure the arthritic condition he has. Only treatment — the usual whirlpool baths and packs — can ease the pain and keep his arm fairly operable."

"The pain he felt when he began pitching a game was a dull ache, which was constant throughout the nine innings. The more he pitched, the more intense the pain. And it often developed into excruciating sharp stabs of pain."

"This meant he would lose the flow of rhythm in his delivery, jerking his pitches or pulling up on them. You know what that could mean to a pitcher of Sandy's caliber."

"Sandy Koufax has asked me repeatedly what he should do: quit or go on pitching. And, as I have said, subjectively and objectively, he had no other decision but to do what he has done — retire. I agree 100 percent with his decision. A man can take only so much."

"I would say that Sandy's condition the past two years was a handicap, as opposed to an ailment, which pitchers have from time to time."

"I have never known a pitcher who performed so well under so serious a handicap. He might have to be minus a limb or an eye to be any worse off as a performer."

It should be noted that Dr. Robert Kerlan, one of the famous specialists in the country in this field, himself suffers from an arthritic condition which prevents him from straightening up. And that he also is seldom without pain in the performance of his duties.

Ivy League Suits Leo Just Fine

By SANDY PADWE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

BOSTON — (NEA) — Bobby Leo might have chosen Notre Dame and made the cover of Time magazine.

He could have chosen Michigan State and laughed at Duffy Daugherty's jokes. He could have picked Army and joined the Long Grey Line, or Navy where he could wear a blue uniform, a white hat and a blonde on each arm.

Bobby Leo of Everett, Mass., disappointed a lot of college football coaches. He chose Harvard.

Four years later, Harvard is unbeaten, with a good chance of winning the Lambert Trophy which goes to the Eastern champion.

That may not excite the UCLA fan in California or the Michigan State fan in the Midwest, but in Boston and all over the East, it is different.

"I know how people in other areas consider Ivy League football," Bobby said, "but we're happy in our own league with our own brand of ball. It's pretty important to us."

The Ivy League is Bobby's brand of ball now, although he would fit in quite well in South Bend, East Lansing or Tuscaloosa proving it, however, is a moot point.

"It would be interesting playing in some of those post season bowl games, but there is a league rule against it," said Bobby.

"If I'm drafted by the pros, though, I think I'll probably give it a try."

The odds will not be with him, although he is one of the speediest backs in college football. "Its his quickness once he gets the football," said Harvard coach John Yovicsin, "which separates him from the usual run of speedy halfbacks."

Bobby is 5-11, 175 pounds. He averages eight yards per carry for the Crimson and lugs the ball an average of 14 times a game. His best day this season came against 1965 Lambert Trophy winner, Dartmouth, when he rushed for 173 yards as Harvard won, 19-14.

"This boy," Yovicsin says, "is one of the most complete football players I've ever coached. We know he can run and cut and that's primarily what we expect from him. But we try to employ as many of his multiple talents as we think he can handle without being overworked. He's not exceptionally big, but we often ask him to throw the key block on our sweep series. His technique is so good and his competitive make-up so strong that he can get away with it. I marvel every time I see him do it."

Bobby is a pleasant, articulate youngster who scored 15 touchdowns as a high school sophomore and 21 as a junior before being hampered his senior year by injuries.

"I visited the big-time schools," Bobby said, "but I chose Harvard because I wanted to go where I thought I could get the best education."

"Sure, the glamor of Notre Dame and the Army - Navy game appealed to me, but my choice was based on the guidance I received from my family. It's a very athletic family, too." (His father, uncle and brother all played on state championship teams at Everett. His uncle later was the starting center on Cornell's 1951 team.)

"It doesn't matter where you play," Bobby said. "You get the same things out of the Ivy League as you would someplace else."

"Football incorporates the feelings and tension of everyday living. The enjoyment of the game is to see how you react under pain and pressure."

'966 All-American

Fish Survey At 2 Local Lakes Told

A fishery survey conducted by the Illinois Department of Conservation, Division of Fisheries, on Morgan Lake and Mauvaisterre Lake revealed many tackle busters. A 30-inch bigmouth buffalo weighing 16 1/2 lbs. and a 30-inch carp weighing 15 1/2 lbs. were the largest fish collected.

The survey was carried out on September 26 and 27, 1966, by Richard Rogers (fishery biologist), Richard Rompasky (fish conservation agent), and William McCormick (Morgan County conservation officer). 1,896 fish comprising 15 species were collected with the electric shocker. The fish were identified, measured, and released unharmed back into the lakes.

Good bullhead and carp fishing can be found in both lakes. Bullheads were found up to 11 inches. Mauvaisterre Lake contains much better populations of largemouth bass and white crappie because it is a deeper lake. Bass were collected up to 17.5 inches and crappie up to 12.5 inches. The bluegill and other sunfish are plentiful, but slow growing and thin. There are so many present that each sunfish does not have enough food or space to allow fast growth. No bluegills were collected over 6 inches.

Most Numerous
The most numerous fish in both lakes is the gizzard shad. It is not a sport fish and is important only as food for the larger predator fish. The largemouth bass and crappie are fat because of the abundance of the shad. This large natural food supply, however, makes it harder for the fishermen to catch the bass and crappie.

Other fish collected included yellow bass (100), green sunfish (83), bluegill x green sunfish hybrid (6), warmouth (3), goldfish (1), bluntnose minnow (6), and golden shiner (1). The last survey of this kind was in June, 1961. The fish population has changed very little since 1961 except for the much greater numbers of largemouth bass and crappie found during this latest survey in Mauvaisterre Lake.

Recommendations
The following recommendations were made based on this survey:

1. Fish can gain entrance into Mauvaisterre Lake from Lake Jacksonville and from Morgan Lake. Any management recommendations such as shad control or complete rehabilitation would have to be carried out on all three lakes as well as the watershed. This project would be expensive, and difficult to obtain good results.
2. No other fish should be stocked.
3. Good soil conservation practices in the watershed would cut down on the silting in of the lake and would improve the fish habitat.
4. The fishermen should fish for the species offering the best fishing at that particular time. Largemouth bass, crappie, carp, and bullheads should provide the best fishing. Fishing with live minnows around the brush should yield good catches of crappie and largemouth bass in the spring from Mauvaisterre Lake. Carp and bullhead fishing should be good summer in both lakes by fishing on the bottom with doughballs and dew worms.

Ron Hansen of the Chicago White Sox set a major league record last season by accepting 28 chances at shortstop in a doubleheader.

Color The Browns With Kelly-Green

By ROGER DOUGHTY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
CLEVELAND — (NEA) — The mythical residents of glorious Gotham City may be proud of the electrifying exploits of Batman and Robin, but any contemplative Cleveland football fan will unhesitatingly tell you that the genuine Dynamic Duo can be found in Blanton Collier's backfield.

Leroy Kelly and Ernie Green—a pair of slim and speedy 200-pound pulverizers produce the potent punch for the (Jim) Brownless Browns.

For almost a decade the Browns kept enemy defenses as honest as Abe Lincoln by handing the ball to fullback Brown 60 per cent of the time and then standing aside. It proved to be a successful formula, especially during the last couple of seasons as Collier's crew captured the NFL championship in '64 and topped another Eastern Division flag in '65.

Brown, as brilliant as ever in '65, succumbed to the allure and affluence of Hollywood this summer. It was the end of an era and Dr. Frank Ryan, the cool quarterback, was expected to take to the air to probe the mathematical equation for victory.

Enter Kelly and Green—with out much fanfare. Ernie, a fifth-year man from Louisville, was rated good but not great, while Kelly, a Morgan State graduate in his third year with the Browns, was pretty much an unknown quantity.

When the season started, Kelly scampered to the top of the list of NFL ball carriers, and Green wasn't far behind. So far the Dynamic Duo have out-produced such established tandems as Dick Bass and Tom Moore of Los Angeles, Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung of Green Bay, Earl Gros and Tim Brown of Philadelphia, John David Crow and Ken Willard of San Francisco, and Bill Brown and Tommy Mason of Minnesota.

"The Browns' players don't seem surprised and neither does Jim Brown. 'I think the team is stronger without me,' says Brown. 'They have better balance.' Most of his former mates agree.

"We don't need Jim," says one lineman. "If we had him, where would we play him?" (Oh, come now.)

"I just want to be one of the best, not a superstar like Jim Brown," says fledgling superstar Kelly. "I try not to think about replacing Jim." But everybody else is thinking about it, so Kelly doesn't have to bother.

"I think Kelly will be the best in the business, if he isn't already," comments Brown. "All Leroy ever needed was a chance to play."

Says Leroy, philosophically, "When I was sitting on the bench for two years I used to compare myself with the starting backs around the league. I knew I was as good as most of them."

Kelly has been an explosive back, with three games in which he has gained more than 100 yards. He also boomed through the Atlanta line for a 70-yard burst, and has led the league in rushing most of the season.

While Kelly explodes, Green just bangs along. Ernie, who played second fiddle to Brown, now plays Robin Kelly's Batman.

NEA All-American Team Dominated By Top Powers

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — In the Year of the Tie, the 1966 All-American football team announced today by Newspaper Enterprise Association adhered to the dual national championship claims by Notre Dame and Michigan State.

They were deadlocked for honors on the mythical team, with four players from each school gaining positions on the offensive and defensive platoons. Tribute was also paid to such powers as Alabama (two places), Nebraska and Georgia Tech.

The Michigan State Spartans, champions of the Big Ten, had the glamor guys of the defense in Charles (Bubba) Smith, the towering end who sometimes lined up over the middle, and George Webster, aptly named the Monster Man in the roving linebacker role he assumed. For most of the season, running was the key to the Spartan attack, and the heavy-duty man was Clinton Jones, who, from a pro standpoint, may be the best running back in the country—and a willing blocker, as well. Up front, Jerry West was a consistently higher grader at the right tackle position.

Notre Dame had the offense answers to the Spartan pair in Nick Eddy and Tom Regner. Eddy, the best Irish runner, is placed at a flanker position here because he also excelled as a receiver and was frequently slotted out during a game. Regner made even big Bubba a fan in their standoff. Lynch was a brilliant leader for the Irish defense, and Alan Page supplied the consistent pressure up front from his right end post. Like their Spartan counterparts, all are seniors.

Alabama, which also has some claim to the national title, will have two choices on display. Cecil Dowdy, a fine offensive tackle, has been Bama's strong man up front. Bryant calls Ray Perkins his finest all-around athlete. Perkins spends most of his time as a flanked-out receiver, but in at least three games this year, Bryant doubled him as a safety on defense. And so to honor this versatile performer, a departure from normal position was made to accommodate him as an All-American.

In a sense, that was true, too, with John LaGrone of the surprising Southern Methodist Mustangs. LaGrone, who started out as a defensive end, was made a middle guard but also operates out of the line and thus qualifies as a linebacker.

Green is the man Ryan counts on to get the job done when the situation is third and three, and Green is responding with the best running of his career. "If Blanton gets Green thinking he's the best there is," says old running mate Brown, "there's no reason he can't be." Ernie seems happy enough being No. 2 after four years of being "the other guy" in the Browns' backfield.

"The Brownless Browns — Color Them Blue" is the way one paper summed up the situation in August but a lot of things (including the color scheme) have changed.

The Brownless Browns? Color them a very bright Kelly — Green.

Lou Brock, St. Louis Cardinal base-running expert, was thrown out only 27 times in 90 stolen base attempts in 1965. He stole 22 bases, 56 times and third 17 times.

"He was impossible to block," said Coach Darrell Royal of Texas. Entrenched at middle guard is Wayne Meylan of Nebraska, one of three juniors on the squad (the others are defensive tackle Dennis Byrd of North Carolina State and offensive guard Edgar Chandler of Georgia).

The Southeast, a lively rival to the Midwest, in the battle for regional supremacy, has seven representatives on the All-American units: Dowdy, Perkins, Chandler, center Jim Breland of Georgia Tech (called the best ever by Coach Bobby Dodd), tight end Austin Dene, the Tennessee (a blocking, defensive type the pros savor), defensive back Tom Beier of Miami and the probable Player of the Year, Steve Spurrier.

It was a merry year for quarterbacks, but Florida's Spurrier won down the stretch over Gary Beban of UCLA and Bob Griese, last year's choice from Purdue.

Beban's teammate, Mel Farr, is the big man, physically, of the backfield. Another West Coast choice was Nate Shaw of Southern California. Joining LaGrone from the Southwest was defensive tackle Loyd Phillips of Arkansas. Jack Clancy of Michigan, the nation's leading receiver, prevented a Notre Dame-Michigan State monopoly of the midlands. The East, in a down cycle, was shut out.

The team was chosen by consulting scouts, coaches and writers in every part of the country, representing a true cross-section of opinion. That opinion, as one might suspect, leaned heavily toward two of the finest college teams of the half century — Notre Dame and Michigan State.

WANTED!

MEN - WOMEN

from ages 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months. Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience. But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

LINCOLN SERVICE has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government. For FREE booklet on Government jobs, including list of positions and salaries, fill out coupon and mail at once — TODAY.

You will also get full details on how you can prepare yourself for these tests. Don't delay — ACT NOW!

LINCOLN SERVICE, Dept. 9-3B
Pekin, Illinois

I am very much interested. Please send me absolutely FREE (1) A list of U.S. Government positions and salaries; (2) Information on how to qualify for a U.S. Government Job.
